EXPLOSIVE HORROR

Death Roll Rises To 150

MADRID, TO-DAY.
THE DEATH ROLL IN THE
PENARANDA DE BRACAMONTE
POWDER FACTORY EXPLOSION
HAS NOW RISEN TO 150, WHILE THE INJURED ARE ESTIMATED
AT 1,500.

Rescue work is still being continued, and it is feared that the final number of victims will be much larger.

A national subscription for the relief of dependents of the victims was opened by General Franco with a contribution of 200,000 pesetas.

The town has been evacuated completely and the inhabitants were given shelter in Salamanca and neighbouring towns.

The town of Penaranda de Bracamonte has become completely uninhabitable; eleven hundred out of 1,300 houses have been destroyed.—Trans-Ocean.

NAZIS HOLDING LESS FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Berlin, To-day.

The Reichbank return dated
July 7, issued yesterday, shows that gold stock and foreign exchange holdings were reduced by 0.1 to 76.6 million Reichmarks.

Note circulation declined 19.9 to 8,554 million Reichmarks.

The amount of credit issued as measured by bills, discounts, and loans and investments, however, rose to 2,004 million Reichmarks.

The total amount of credit under the Reichbank law was 10,000 million Reichmarks. At the end of June 1938, the amount was 10,000 million Reichmarks. The amount of credit under the Reichbank law was 10,000 million Reichmarks.

Tokyo Paper Thinks H.K. Is Untenable

Tokyo, To-day.

The possibility of an Anglo-Japanese war and its prospective outcome is discussed by the "Yomiuri Shimbun."

If such a war should break out, the paper says, the Far East would be the scene of gigantic battles.
The paper believes that the Japanese General Staff, in case of such a conflict, has planned an attack on Singapore, where the British Navy would be likely to retire "since Britain would not be able to hold Hong Kong against a Japanese attack and would therefore abandon it."

The Japanese, attacking with their air force and submarines,
"would have no great difficulty in conquering the Malay Peninsula!"

The loss of Singapore would mean the breaking down of the entire British defence system in the Far East.

The paper enumerates British naval strength.

BRITAIN'S STRENGTH

This consists, it says, of 14 battleships, 14 "A class" cruisers, 49

"B" class" cruisers, including the cruisers Belfast and Edinburgh, and seven aircraft-carriers, "two of which are of antiquated type."

The European tension would prevent Britain sending battleships and cruisers to the Far East.

OLD CUSTOMS REVIVED AT GREENWICH

London, To-day.

Old English customs will be revived when the King visits the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, this evening.

His Majesty will proceed down the Thames in the State Barge and will inaugurate the renovated historic hall of the College.

At a banquet in the officers' mess a baron of beef will be carried in ceremonious procession across the hall, while a naval band will play
"The Roast Beef of Old England."
—Trans-Ocean.

AMERICAN AID

In view of probable American and French aid to Britain, says
the paper, the Japanese General Staff has prepared a defence plan to meet this contingency.

Any war with Britain would end in favour of Japan, the journal concludes.—Trans-Ocean.

MISUSE OF FRENCH FLAG ALLEGED

Shanghai, To-day.

Mr. Muira, Japanese Consul-
General, on behalf of the Japanese Navy, yesterday lodged a protest with the French Consul-General,
M. Baudet, against the alleged misuse of French flags by Chinese troops.

Mr. Muira stated that when Japanese troops landed on June 30 on Chongshan Island in Hangchow Bay, they saw the French flag flying from a Chinese Customs building.

When the Japanese troops alluded to the French flag was lowered and replaced by the Chinese flag.

Mr. Muira threatened that if the French flag was not taken down, the Japanese would take revenge.—Trans-Ocean.

Mystery I.R.A. Man Meets Gestapo Chiefs, Promised Aid In Bomb Plots

JAP. DEMANDS IN TOKYO NEGOTIATIONS

Tokyo, To-day. Britain's abandonment of her pro-Chiang Kai-shek policy is to be made an absolute condition at the forthcoming Anglo-Japanese conference, according to an agreement reached at an official conference of Army and Foreign Office leaders yesterday afternoon, declares the "Asahi Shimbun."

The newspaper, which is closely connected with official Japanese quarters, formulates the Japanese demands as follows:

The strictest neutrality by Britain in the China conflict;

Co-operation of British representatives with the Japanese authorities "in order to remove difficulties which have resulted from the British pro-Chiang Kai-shek attitude."

The question of whether the Tientsin situation is to be treated separately or together with a general solution of the whole Far Eastern problem, as advocated by the Japanese Army, has not yet been decided. — Reuter and Trans-Ocean.

German Money Will Finance

"War On Nerves"

London, June 25.

Every French frontier post has been warned to be on the look-out for a mystery Irishman, known to be an emissary of the I.R.A., who has had frequent meetings in Germany with Gestapo Chiefs.

Using passports bearing different names, he has visited Germany several times in the last few weeks.

French Secret Service agents who trailed him have discovered that Gestapo, who have been ordered to join in the campaign to upset British nerves, are anxious to have the help of the I.R.A.

The I. R. A. agent insisted that I.R.A. would need more money if Germany wanted results, and it is known that a definite offer of financial backing was made by the Gestapo chiefs.

To prove that they were in earnest, a large credit was arranged, in the Irishman's name, in a Paris bank.

It is said also that he was promised a regular supply of bombs and explosives and that already material for the use of the Irish terrorists have been smuggled into England.

The mysterious Irishman is believed to be the I.R.A.'s European head.

The French authorities allege that he has been a German agent for some years, and that he is in charge of the task of organising an espionage service in Ireland in peace time and arranging secret bases for submarines in war time.

CLOSE WATCH

The remittance to his credit in a Paris bank has been impounded by the police. The man himself is expected any day at the frontier by the French police.

Some of his associates are known and are being watched closely.

His own movements in Germany have been watched so closely that all details are known, and even if the British authorities do not want to take proceedings, the French police will indict him as an enemy agent should he fall into their hands.

SILVER HITS NEW LOW

London, To-day.

H.K. Strike: Five Men Arrested

THE CHINESE PRESS COMPOSITORS' STRIKE, WHICH STARTED LAST NIGHT, WAS STILL UNSETTLED THIS MORNING, AND IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT REPRESENTATIVES FROM BOTH SIDES WILL ASSEMBLE TO-DAY TO ENDEAVOUR TO REACH AN AGREEMENT SATISFACTORY TO EMPLOYEES AND EMPLOYERS.

The "Tsun Wan Yat Pao," leading vernacular daily, published a single sheet containing only advertisements.

The "Kung Sheung Yat Pao" (Industrial and Commercial Press) printed two pages with some foreign and local news, which had been "set" earlier in the day before the strike was called.

Only four dailies and a few mosquito papers were unaffected. The four were the "Lih Pao," the "Ta Kung Yat Pao," the "Sing Tao Jih Pao," and the "National Times."

It is learned that the compositors and printers demanded a nine-hour day, and allowances of $8 and $4 for food and lodging.

Some 2,000 workers are affected.

FIVE ARRESTED

Five members of the Union were arrested by the police on a warrant last night, the "China Mail" understands.

The men are being charged with unlawfully printing pamphlets on July 6 without the permission of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

The arrested men are Ma Chiu-fan, Chung Ping-hei, Mo Hui-chan, Man Tse-hong and Wong Tze-tsai, all printers.

They appeared at Central this morning and pleaded not guilty.

The case was adjourned till 2.30 p.m. on August 1, the men being released without bail.

Sub-Inspector R. Ellis, of the Special Branch, is in charge of the case, and stated that Mr. John Whyatt, Crown Counsel, will conduct the prosecution.

Exports To China: Questions In The Commons

LONDON, TO-DAY.

MR. F. J. BELLENGER (LABOUR) ASKED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS YESTERDAY THE STERLING VALUE OF PROPOSALS SUBMITTED BY BRITISH TRADERS IN THE PAST SIX MONTHS IN CONNECTION WITH EXPORTS TO CHINA.

Mr. Belenger also asked what were the proportions approved and the total value of guarantees given by the Export Credits Guarantee Department in that period.

Mr. R. S. Hudson, Secretary for Overseas Trade, replied that the total contracts, policies and guarantees issued in the six months to June 30 totalled £1,445,207.

WHOSE FAULT?

It was not the practice to state the amounts in respect of any particular country.

Mr. Belenger, in a supplementary question, asked whether the amount guaranteed by the Overseas Trade Department was less than £200,000.

If this was so, was it due to the lack of initiative of British traders or the fault of the Department?

Mr. Hudson declined to give further details as it was the practice of the Department to regard as confidential information relating to individual transactions.

MANY BRITISH AIRCRAFT GOING ABROAD

High Reputation In Foreign Forces

The excellent reputation enjoyed by British aircraft and aero engines abroad is shown by the amount of such material which is already, or will shortly be, in use in foreign and Dominion air forces.

In some instances British planes and engines are being manufactured by overseas firms under licence. A considerable amount of aviation material is, however, being sent abroad from factories in England, which in itself is a most satisfactory indication of the recent increase in the productive capacity of the British aircraft industry.

The Air Ministry attaches considerable importance to the maintenance of an adequate overseas market for planes and other aviation material manufactured in England. Without such a market it might be difficult, in normal times, to maintain an aviation industry at home sufficient to supply the needs of the R.A.F.

The French Air Ministry is understood to have placed a large order for Bristol Hercules engines for the French Air Force. These will be manufactured in France. A Hercules II engine has recently passed successfully a type-approval test under the special condition laid down by the French authorities.

FIGHTERS FOR PORTUGAL

The Portuguese Government has placed an order for 15 more Gloster Gladiator fighters, making a total of 30 in all.

The Egyptian Air Force is being supplied with a number of Westland Lysander army-operation machines. These have been fitted with special aircleaners in the carburetors of their 890 h.p. Bristol Mercury engines to prevent the entry of sand and dust particles.

The Fokker Company has received an order for 65 of its G. 1 twin-engine fighter-reconnaissance planes from the Dutch Air Force and that these machines will be equipped with Bristol Mercury VIII engines.

This company is also producing a twin-engine bomber, known as the T.9, for use in the Netherlands Indies. The prototype machine, which will be powered with Bristol Hercules sleevevalve engines, will undergo tests in Holland during this summer.

SUPPLIES FOR DOMINIONS

As already reported 30 Vickers Wellington longrange bombers have been ordered for the New Zealand Air Force. It is planned to manufacture a large number of the new Bristol Beaufort general-purpose planes in Australia.

The South African and Canadian Air Forces are now being supplied with Bristol Blenheims. The Canadian Force is also to be equipped with 10 Supermarine Stranraer flying-boats. One of these machines, built by Canadian-Vickers Ltd., has recently passed its tests at Montreal. These are the largest air-frames which have yet been manufactured completely in Canada.

FOREIGNERS ORDERED TO LEAVE TYROL

THE HAGUE, TO-DAY.

FOREIGNERS LIVING IN SOUTH TYROL, INCLUDING A NUMBER OF NETHERLANDS RESIDENTS, HAVE BEEN ORDERED TO LEAVE WITHIN 24 HOURS, ACCORDING TO REPORTS RECEIVED HERE.

The Netherlands Minister in Rome is inquiring into the matter. — Reuter Bulletin.

The South Tyrol is part of Austria now under Italian rule. Much discussion has been going on regarding Hitler's intentions in the district, which is populated by over 200,000 Germans.

SOVIET ENVOY TO CHINA KILLED IN CRASH

Moscow, To-day.

The Soviet Ambassador to China, M. Luganets-Orelsky, his wife and their driver, were killed in a motor-car accident in Russia yesterday. — Reuter.

M. Orelsky succeeded M. Bogomoloff as Ambassador to China. His predecessor was recalled to Moscow and was reported to have been "liquidated."

The accident, it has only just been revealed, occurred last Saturday between Kutaisi and Tskhalubo.

The Kutaisi city commission established that the accident was caused by a mechanical defect in the car.

M. Orelsky left Chungking for Moscow on Monday in March and recently had been undergoing a cure at the health resort of Tskhalubo.

CASE

Godown Case Continues

The case in which the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China are claiming the sum of $19,388.14, cost of 31 packages of cargo, as wrongful conversion or breach of contract from the Hong Kong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd., was continued this morning before Sir Atholl MacGregor.

Mr. Eldon Potter appeared on behalf of the Godown Co. and also on behalf of Holt's Wharf, who are also sued on an identical claim. This morning Mr. D'Almada for the Chartered Bank, quoted authorities in support of his contention that the defendants were not entitled to estoppel and dwelt on the scope of agency and agents. Mr. Potter said that the defendants were not guilty of breach of contract in that they had followed step by step the conditions of the contract. Neither side had been accused of negligence. The contract was carried out in its fundamentals.

Mr. d'Almada had stated that the language relative to the exception clauses in the Godown warrant was not clear.

There was a clause in the Godown warrant which required that any package over the value of $500 should be declared. If companies took the risk of obtaining a cheaper storage rate and not declaring the goods the clause, "will not be responsible for the value of the package" should apply.

The case is proceeding.

GHASTLY TOLL IN POWDER EXPLOSION

PARIS, TO-DAY.

EIGHTY WERE KILLED AND OVER 200 INJURED, AND BETWEEN 80 AND 100 ARE MISSING, AS THE RESULT OF THE EXPLOSION IN A POWDER FACTORY NEAR PENARANDA, IN SALAMANCA.

Many houses were damaged, and several were still in flames yesterday afternoon.

A goods train at Penaranda station was completely destroyed by the explosion.

The entire population of Penaranda has evacuated to Salamanca.

Damage, according to preliminary estimates, totals several million pesetas, and the Spanish Government has sent 200,000 pesetas for relief purposes.

Fire-brigades from Salamanca, Valladolid and Avila are fighting the fires.—Trans-Ocean.

The statement of Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister, in the House of Commons, has been received with

50 PER CENT. OF CHINA'S UNIVERSITIES DESTROYED

CHUNGKING, TO-DAY.

MR. CHEN LI-FU, THE CHINESE MINISTER OF EDUCATION, IN AN INTERVIEW WITH MR. HANS MELCHERS, CHIEF CORRESPONDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER IN THE FAR EAST OF TRANS-OCEAN NEWS SERVICE, STATED THAT OVER 50 PER CENT OF THE CHINESE UNIVERSITIES AND OTHER SEATS OF LEARNING HAVE BEEN DESTROYED DURING THE HOSTILITIES.

They were re-established in the interior, however, and the process of re-equipping them was still going on.

Some of the valuable libraries, such as those of the Wuhan and Central universities, had been spared, but in the case of laboratory and other scientific equipment great losses had been suffered.

One of the outstanding examples was that of the Sino-German Tung-chi University, near Shanghai, where a very great part of the scientific and other instruments had been lost.

Mr. Chen stated that formerly Chinese institutes of learning were mostly concentrated in a few points but an effort was now being made to distribute them over the country. This, however, was proving difficult owing to a lack of adequate housing facilities and their inability to erect new buildings due to a lack of funds for such purposes.

FOREIGN AID WANTED

It was planned, however, to leave a certain number of universities and high schools in the interior even after the war, in order to give the inhabitants of the interior provinces equal opportunities.

In the meantime, the Ministry of Education was encouraging students to continue their studies as after the conclusion of the hostilities there would be a great demand for engineers and scientists for the work of reconstruction.

It was also hoped that foreign scientists would come to China at the end of the war.

The Minister of Education went on to state that the war would be the best education for China, teaching what has really been needed and what was lacking here, so that provision could be made in the future.

All preparations were now being made to cope with future increased demands.

Schools were now being used as focal points for spreading education through the surrounding districts. In addition, mobile units—motor cars and boats—were being used to tour the country with lantern slides and records.

Furthermore, the Ministry of Education had drawn up 52 special lectures to be given at weekly school services in the country, accompanied by lantern slides, and these would come into use shortly.

FRANCO-BRITISH TALKS ON FAR EAST

LONDON, TO-DAY. A DEPUTATION OF THE FRANCO-CHINESE COMMITTEE OF THE FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES IS VISITING LONDON ON WEDNESDAY AT THE INVITATION OF TEN MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT.

Among those who issued the invitation were Sir J. S. Wardlaw-Milne (Conservative) and Mr. Vernon Bartlett (Liberal).

The committee, comprising about 340 deputies of all parties, recently had important discussions with the French Premier, M. Daladier, and Foreign Minister, M. Bonnet, on French policy in the Far East.

The deputation, which is led by M. Marius Moutet, former Minister of Colonies, will discuss the Far Eastern situation with M.P.'s at a meeting at the House of Lords on Wednesday evening following lunch at the House of Commons.—Reuter.

"AGGRESSION" BY SOVIET IN FAR EAST DENIED

London, To-day. At question time in the House of Commons yesterday, Capt. A. H. M. Ramsay (Conservative) asked whether the League of Nations had ever been notified of acts of aggression by the Soviet armies in China culminating in the imposition of the Soviet system in Sinkiang and Szechuen.

Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, replied that there had been wide extension of Russian influence in Sinkiang in the last few years.

However, the system of government had not been Sovietised in either province, nor had either been the object of aggression by the Soviet Union.—Reuter.

NEUTRALITY OF SMALL STATES

London, To-day. The Prime Minister was asked in the House of Commons yesterday to give an assurance that no Sovereign State, contrary to its will, shall be included in any non-aggression pact entered into by Britain.

Mr. Chamberlain stated in reply that it was the general policy of His Majesty's Government to maintain respect for the integrity of all Sovereign States.

In particular, they were aware of the desire of Finland and the Baltic States to preserve their independence and neutrality, and this was one of the objects of His Majesty's Government.—Reuter.

JAPS. TO TRY COL. SPEAR

PEIPING, TO-DAY.

A JAPANESE ARMY SPOKESMAN ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY THAT COL. SPEAR, THE BRITISH MILITARY ATTACHE HELD BY THE JAPANESE, WOULD APPEAR BEFORE A SPECIAL COURT-MARTIAL AT KALGAN.

The spokesman was unable to reveal the date of the trial or the charges against Col. Spear.

The tribunal before which he is to appear is a special body created since the present hostilities began, and is normally used for the trial of Japanese civilians or foreigners infringing the military law.

It consists of "persons attached to the Japanese army," but not officers. This is believed to mean lawyers and other civilians attached to the fighting forces.

Questioned in regard to the right of this body to try Col. Spear, the spokesman said that three Japanese soldiers were now being tried at Kalgan, and added: "If we can try our own soldiers I guess we are able to try Col. Spear." — Reuter.

NO DEFINITE CHARGES

London, To-day.

Mr. R. A. Butler, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said in the House of Commons yesterday that repeated representations to the Japanese Government had been made by Sir Robert Craigie in Tokyo for the release of Col. Spear, the military attache in China.

Mr. Butler added that Sir Robert Craigie would continue to press for Col. Spear's early release.

No definite charges had yet been formulated against him, he concluded.—Reuter.

R.A.F. PLANES IN PARIS

PARIS, TO-DAY.

FIFTY R.A.F. BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS, INCLUDING SUPER-MARINE SPITFIRES, HAWKER HURRICANES AND BRISTOL BLUENHEIMS, ARE TO FLY OVER PARIS ON JULY 14.

The flight by these machines, which arrived at Le Bourget military airport last evening, will be part of this year's celebrations of the French national holiday.

The R.A.F. planes are returning to England directly after the fly past in Paris.—Reuter.

Mr. S. Stockland, of 142 Argyll Street, has reported to the police that at about 8 p.m. on Sunday he was driving his car through Castle Road when he was overtaken by a car whose driver was a lady whose name he does not know. The car was coming from the opposite direction and collided with him. The mudguards and wheels of both cars was sustained.

CORRESPONDENCE

VILLAGE ROAD TENANTS

Sir,—The report appearing in a Hong Kong newspaper about the stand of the tenants of the Yiu Kwong Terrace in Village Road, Happy Valley, is likely to convey a wrong impression of the situation.

Some of the statements in the report are not altogether correct representation of the situation and the views said to be expressed by a tenant may be the views of any individual tenant and not necessarily of the majority of the tenants.

So far as I understand, the general feeling amongst the tenants is that they would be willing for amicable settlement with the landlord if the latter wishes it so; but they are, at the same time, prepared to meet any eventuality if the landlord takes a stand otherwise. There is no desire amongst the tenants to aggravate the matter but rather to straighten it out with the landlord in a spirit of give and take if the latter is willing to do so.

A TENANT.

KOWLOON TRAFFIC CASES

Miss V. C. Williams, of Kimberly Road, was this morning fined $10 by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at Kowloon for driving without due care and caution. She pleaded guilty.

She was alleged to have driven her car, No. 2126, in Sai Kung Road at 4.45 p.m. on June 17 and to have knocked down two children who were playing in the street.

A fine of $5 was imposed on V. Novikoff, of Cumberland Road, for driving on the wrong side of Nullah Road on June 19.

For speeding his lorry up to 35 m.p.h. in Waterloo Road on June 19, Chan Chiu Sam was fined $15.

TRAFFIC OFFENDERS

Mr. A. Zimmern, of No. 1 Kennedy Road was fined $5 by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy this morning, when he was summoned for driving his motor car in a westerly direction in Charter Road, between Ice House Street and Pedder Street, on June 16.

Traffic Sergeant Appleton said that defendant was seen driving into Charter Road to park his car.

Mrs. E. Boyd, of the Little Shop, Gloucester Building, was summoned for parking overtime in Connaught Road car park on June 14.

A fine of $5 was imposed.

MENACES CHARGE

Li Chiu, 80, tailor, Fung Chu-chuen, 30, poultry dealer and Tee Ho, 38, coolie, were charged at the Central Magistracy before Mr. T. J. Houston with demanding $40 from a 20-year-old clerk, Yu Sau-man, with menaces on June 28. Another woman Ng Yee-mui, together with the three defendants, was charged with conspiracy.

Mr. C. A. A. Macfadyen appeared for all the defendants, who were allowed bail for $100 each.

Hearings for the case was fixed for July 14 at 2 p.m. Detective Sergeant R. Mcvey is in charge of the case.

HOTTEST DAY OF THE YEAR

A NEW HIGH TEMPERATURE FOR THE YEAR WAS RECORDED YESTERDAY WHEN A MAXIMUM READING OF 98 DEGREES WAS REGISTERED BY THE ROYAL OBSERVATORY.

Minimum last night was 81 degrees, and at 10 a.m. to-day the thermometer reading was 86 degrees.

The Royal Observatory reports that a moderate anticyclone covers the Pacific to the east and north-east of Japan.

The depression is situated about 100 miles to the west of Naha, moving north-west or north-north-west.

The depression in the China Sea is situated about 150 miles to the east of North Luzon, moving north-west.

A depression is stationary over Tongking and south-west China.

OLD TRICK FAILS

Wong Chi, 26, unemployed, was charged before Mr. T. J. Houston at the Central Magistracy this morning with attempting to obtain 65 yards of garberdine from a shop assistant Lo Piu, by means of a trick, and with conspiracy to defraud.

It was said that on July 9 a man went to complainant's shop in Des Voeux Road West. On arrival, complainant was told to leave the good behind with the "purchaser," and to follow defendant to get the money. Complainant refused to leave the articles behind, and asked defendant to pay the bill. Defendant started to run and was apprehended.

Defendant was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

Detective Sergeant R. Mcvey prosecuted.

FALSE PRETENCES

Appearing before Mr. T. J. Houston at the Central Magistracy this morning, Lam Yat, 31, unemployed, was charged with obtaining money by false pretences.

Detective-Sergeant R. Mcvey told the Court that defendant came to the Colony together with complainant, Li Kuen, from the country. In June 8, defendant went to No. 123 Des Voeux Road West, where complainant had his money, and said he has authorised by Li to get $10. Defendant went there again on June 11, and pulled the same trick.

Defendant admitted that he had lost his money in gambling in Macao.

Sentence of six months' hard labour was passed.

MURDER CHARGE

The murder of a workshop foreman, Fong Sang, in Castle Peak Road at late hour on Friday night in April Street, had a sequel this morning at the Kowloon Magistracy before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen when three men were charged with murder of the deceased.

Li Kuen, charged with the murder, was unemployed bricklayer, Li Kuen, 30, and Fung Yee, 38, both unemployed, were charged for the murder. They were demanded for bail for $100 each.

"WE ARE FIRMLY RESOLVED....."

PREMIER DANZIG REPEATS WARNING

BUT HOPES DISCUSSIONS WILL BE POSSIBLE

London, To-day.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, made his eagerly awaited statement on Danzig in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Chamberlain said "I have previously stated that His Majesty's Government is maintaining close contact with the Polish and French Governments on the question of Danzig.

"I have nothing at present to add to the information already given about the local situation, but I may perhaps usefully review the elements of this question as they appear to His Majesty's Government.

"Racially, Danzig is almost wholly a German city, but the prosperity of its inhabitants depends to a very large extent upon Polish trade.

"The Vistula is Poland's only waterway to the Baltic, and the port at its mouth is therefore of vital strategical and economic importance to her.

NO OPPRESSION OF GERMANS

"Another Power established in Danzig could, if she so desired, block Poland's access to the sea and so exert an economic and military stranglehold upon her.

"Those responsible for framing the present Statute of the Free City were fully conscious of these facts and did their best to make provision accordingly.

"Moreover, there is no question of any oppression of the German population in Danzig. On the contrary, the administration of the Free City is in German hands and the only restrictions imposed are not of a kind to curtail the liberties of the citizens.

NOT UNJUST

"The present settlement, though it may be capable of improvement, cannot in itself be regarded as basically unjust or illogical.

"Maintenance of the status quo has in fact been guaranteed by the German Chancellor up to 1944 by the ten-year treaty which he concluded with the late Marshal Pilsudski.

"Up to last March, Germany seemed to have felt that while the position in Danzig might ultimately require revision, the question was neither urgent nor likely to lead to serious dispute.

"But in March, when the German Government put forward an offer in the form of certain considerations, accompanied by a press campaign, the Polish Government realised they might be faced with a unilateral situation which they would have to resist with all their forces.

THEY WERE WARNED

"They had before them the events which had taken place in Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and Memelland.

"Accordingly, they refused to accept the German point of view, and themselves made suggestions for a possible solution of the problems in which Germany was interested.

"Certain defensive measures were taken by Poland on March 23, and a reply sent to Berlin on March 26. "I ask the House to note carefully these dates.

"It has been freely stated in Germany that it was His Majesty's Government's guarantee which encouraged the Polish Government to take the action which I have described. But our guarantee was not given until March 31. By March 26 no mention of it had even been made to the Polish Government.

FAIT ACCOMPLI SUGGESTION

"Recent occurrences in Danzig have inevitably given rise to fears that it is intended to settle the future status by unilateral action organised by surreptitious methods, thus presenting Poland and the other Powers with a fait accompli.

"In such circumstances, any action taken by Poland to restore the situation would, it is suggested, be represented as an act of aggression on her part, and if her action was supported by other Powers, they would be accused of abetting her in the use of force.

GRAVER ISSUES

"If the sequence of events should in fact be such as is contemplated in this hypothesis, men will realise that the issue could not be considered purely a local one involving the rights and interests of Danzig, which is a small, defenceless, and isolated city. It would be a matter of grave importance to the peace and stability of Europe, and would raise questions of international law and justice.

RIBBENTROP TAKES A HOLIDAY

Berlin, To-day.
The Nazi Foreign Minister, Herr von Ribbentrop, left Berlin yesterday on a holiday which he hopes will last several weeks. Herr von Ribbentrop has been in poor health lately.—Reuter.

"We have guaranteed to give our assistance to Poland in the case of a clear threat to her independence which she considers it vital to resist with all her national forces, and we are firmly resolved to carry out this undertaking.

"I have said that while the present settlement is neither basically unjust or illogical, it may be capable of improvement.

HOPE FOR DISCUSSIONS

"It may be that in a clearer atmosphere, possible improvement could be discussed.

"Indeed, Col. Beck (the Polish Foreign Minister) himself said on May 5 that if the Reich was guided by two conditions, namely, peaceful intentions and peaceful methods of procedure, all conversations are possible.

"In his speech before the Reichstag on April 28, Herr Hitler said that if the Polish Government wished to come to fresh contractual Government wished to come to fresh arrangements governing relations with Germany, he could be welcome such an idea.

"He added that any future arrangements would have to be based on an absolutely clear obligation equally binding both parties.

CONFIDENCE DISTURBED

"His Majesty's Government realise that recent developments in the Free City have disturbed confidence and rendered it difficult at present to find an atmosphere in which reasonable counsel can prevail.

"Faced with this situation, the Polish Government remain calm, and His Majesty's Government hope that the Free City, with her ancient traditions, may again prove as she has done before that different nationalities can work together when their real interests coincide.

"Meanwhile, I trust that all concerned will declare and show their determination not to allow any incidents in connexion with Danzig to assume such a character as might constitute a menace to the peace of Europe." (Cheers)
Reuter.

ALLIANCE PROPOSALS

London, To-day.
The Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, called on Mr. Chamberlain at noon, and is reported to have discussed the Premier's statement. The Polish Ambassador returned to London by air from Warsaw, and is understood to have brought back suggestions for a full alliance between Poland and Britain.

BRITISH AIR SERVICE FOR THE PACIFIC?

LONDON, TO-DAY.

THE SECOND READING OF THE BILL TO GIVE EFFECT TO THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO MERGE IMPERIAL AIRWAYS AND BRITISH AIRWAYS INTO ONE BIG PUBLIC CORPORATION AND TO MAKE FURTHER AND BETTER PROVISION FOR THE OPERATION OF AIR TRANSPORT SERVICES, WAS MOVED IN THE COMMONS YESTERDAY BY THE SECRETARY FOR AIR.

Sir Kingsley Wood stated that the new corporation would continue the overseas services now being run by the constituent companies, and arrangements were also already in contemplation for the inception of a new service in various parts of the world.

Chief among these were extended services in Europe, a trans-Tasman service, a service across the North Atlantic and a service to West Africa and across the South Atlantic. A trans-Pacific service was also in contemplation.

The Bill was criticised by the Labour opposition principally in respect to its financial provisions, which it was contended, would start the corporation with an excessive capital burden.—British Wireless.

POLAND'S GREAT SATISFACTION

WARSAW, TO-DAY.

CIRCLES IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH THE POLISH GOVERNMENT DECLARE THAT MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S DECLARATION HAS CAUSED "GREAT SATISFACTION" IN POLAND.

It is added in the same circles that while the declaration introduced no new element into the situation, it crystallised the attitude of the British Government.

There is also a feeling that Poland would have been forced to recent developments in Danzig and thus appear in the role of aggressor unless the British Government had unequivocally declared their support of Poland.

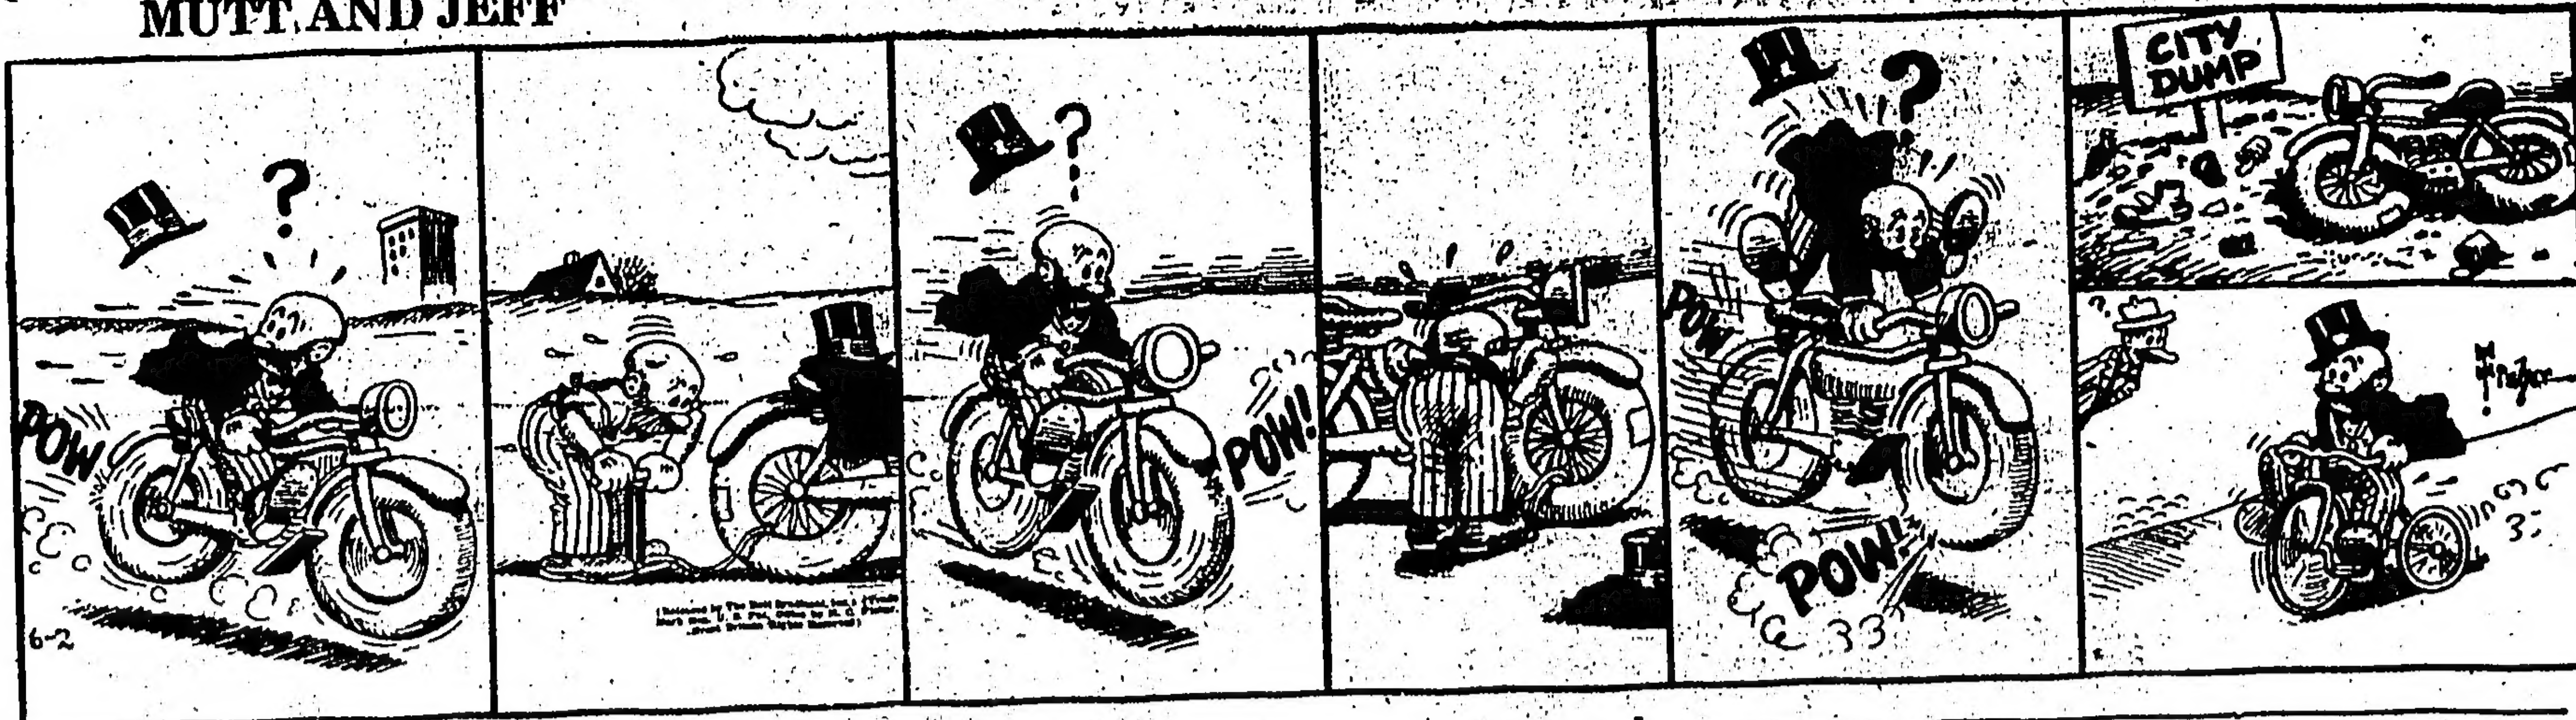

It is thought that the speech, which is described in unofficial circles as firm and clear, has gone a long way towards preventing a further deterioration of Danzig by defining the British attitude so firmly.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

"RELIEF"

Well, we've finally come to it. Relief! the local relief station and see what W. P. A.; The night that we decided could be done about getting larger I was glad that father and mother quantities of things.

It was easy. One day the truck left half its contents at the house, cheerfully telling us there was plenty more where this came from.

During the next two weeks I spent most of my time down at Elsie's. Every morning we'd make something: Pies, cakes, jams, bread, salads, sandwiches—all sort of foodstuffs. And every afternoon we'd sell them. Elsie and I split the profits fifty-fifty. By the end of the month Elsie had made enough so that Harry could buy lumber to erect a small roadside stand. And there was enough left over so he could plant a flower garden. Harry loved flowers. By the middle of the summer he was selling as many flowers as Elsie and I were pies.

I suppose, being descendants of such stock, was what at first caused Ed and me to feel a slight twinge of humiliation. We got over it, however, and things worked out pretty well in the end.

Ed had good connections. In less than a week a government truck backed up to our door and deposited a lot of things to eat. I couldn't help wondering, and not without a twinge of shame, what the neighbours would

Toward the end of July Ed was offered a job in one of the local factories, but he declined. The job would pay think, and then I remembered that this same truck had been a familiar sight on our street for a year.

At any rate, that night we ate heartily and well, and there was no skimping because of fear that tomorrow there would be nothing.

There is one thing about being on relief: You never know what you're going to have to eat from one week to the next. I mean, you take last week. The local relief station had received a shipment of butter. The truck deposited sixteen pounds with us. Now sixteen pounds is a lot of butter and there is a limit to the ways of disguising it in the shape of appetising dishes. It seemed a pity to think of all that butter spoiling, and then I remembered Elsie and Harry Simmons who lived down in Hapdale.

Elsie and Harry hadn't been doing so well and had been talking of applying for aid. So that afternoon I caught the bus to Hapdale and called on Elsie. We had a talk and made some plans. The next day I went down to Hapdale early, bringing with me ten pounds of butter. Elsie and I spent the morning making cookies and cakes; and that afternoon we set up a table on the lawn and put our things on display.

The Simmons' place is on a main road and it wasn't long before passing motorists began to stop and buy some of our home-cooked pastry. Both Elsie and I, I will say, are good cooks and every person who sampled a cookie or piece of cake made a purchase. By four o'clock we were sold out.

The next day the truck left Ed and me a half bushel of potatoes, some beets, carrots, peas, celery, radishes, and onions. Now Ed and I are fond of vegetables, but we knew well enough that long before we'd eaten all these things the truck would appear again and like as not leave us twenty or thirty pounds of steak. So with Ed's help I took most of the stuff down to Elsie's. And Elsie and I spent the day making vegetable salad which we arranged on paper plates and wrapped in waxed paper and carried outside to our table.

It was surprising the way those only twenty dollars a week, and what with having our rent, taxes, insurance, electricity and fuel bills paid by the relief station, and me storing by a tidy sum from the things Elsie and I made and sold, there was no sense in going to work in a factory. Besides, Ed was keeping himself busy nagging at the relief authorities to keep us supplied with ingredients.

It was no longer necessary for Harry to think of applying for aid. He was making a neat profit from his flowers and in his spare time built an addition to our roadside stand. In August we found it necessary to hire a woman to wait on trade part time. Later that same month Harry bought a light truck and hired a driver to deliver his flowers and to transport provisions from our kitchen down to the roadside stand.

Ed says that with a little more wrangling he thinks he can get more supplies for us; in which event we'll have to hire a helper in Elsie's kitchen. Then, too, Ed is thinking seriously of applying for clothing. If, he says, they dump as much clothing on our doorstep as they did food-stuffs we can open a clothing department at our roadside stand.

Yes, it's all working out very well. I feel sure father and mother would have been proud of how we handled things. Of course they might have been a little puzzled, too. They might have wondered who was paying for the "aid" we were receiving; but, of course, that's silly to even think about.

NAZIS REACTING IN THE SAME OLD WAY

Premier's Statement "Does Not Change Situation"

Berlin's Encirclement Allegations

Berlin, To-day.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons on Danzig "contains nothing surprising and nothing new," in the opinion of official Nazi quarters.

It is declared in Berlin that the speech "does not change the present situation."

A political spokesman, commenting on the statement, declared that the Powers which gave Danzig the status of a Free City "are now endeavouring to make it an issue menacing peace."

Referring to Mr. Chamberlain's statement that Britain's guarantee had nothing to do with Poland's attitude, the spokesman said he could not expect them to believe that Poland and Britain did not discuss the matter long before March 31—the date when the British guarantee was given.

—Reuter.

"BAD CONSCIENCE!"

Berlin, To-day.

Nazi quarters allege that Mr. Chamberlain has a "bad conscience," as he was so emphatic in giving dates concerning the British guarantee and Poland's precautionary measures.

Mr. Chamberlain is again accused of "playing with words in an attempt to justify himself."

The crucial point of the whole matter, say the Nazis, is that Britain is quite willing to back up "any anti-German move in Danzig."

ENCIRCLEMENT AGAIN

The Nazis deny that Danzig is an international question, saying it concerns Danzigers themselves.

The "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" and the "Nachtausgabe" say that Danzig does not matter to Britain and repeat the allegation that London is only interested in having Polish troops in readiness "to assist the encirclement policy."

—Trans-Ocean.

"ONE-SIDED ATTITUDE"

Danzig, To-day.

Nazi quarters in Danzig say that Mr. Chamberlain's "one-sided attitude" will make no impression on Germany or Danzig.

The statement will have no effect on a possible German decision regarding solution of the conflict between Germany and Poland, they add.

NAZIS' "DAY OF PEACE"

Berlin, To-day.

This year's Nazi Party Day at Nuremberg is to be held from September 2 to September 11, under the motto "Party Day of Peace."

This year's Party Day will be two days longer than usual in order to give more time to the various items on the programme.

NAZI ARMY CHIEF GOES ON LEAVE

BERLIN, TO-DAY.

GENERAL VON BRAUCHITSCH, THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE GERMAN ARMY, HAS GONE ON SEVERAL WEEKS LEAVE.

Hitler is to remain at the Berghof, near Berchtesgaden, for some time without returning to Berlin.

These signs are interpreted by Berlin political quarters as meaning that the Reich Government does not expect serious political complication in Europe during the next weeks.

Reports that the Reichstag has been summoned for the middle of July in order to hear an important statement by Hitler on Danzig, are declared ridiculous by official circles.

Hitler will probably receive Herr Forster, the Nazi Party leader of Danzig, at the Observanzberg to-day for a report on the Danzig situation.

COUNT CIANO IN SPAIN

Barcelona, To-day.

Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister, arrived in Barcelona yesterday afternoon, on board the Italian cruiser Eugenio di Savoia escorted by an Italian fleet of three cruisers, three mine layers and three submarines.

He was welcomed by Signor Serrano Suner, the Spanish Minister of Interior, and Count Jordana, the Foreign Minister, as well as by the Italian and German Ambassadors and numerous high official and generals.

A salute of 21 guns was fired in his honour.

SOVIET UNIONS SNUBBED

STATEMENT ON HOIHOW

London, To-day.

Answering questions in the House of Commons yesterday, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Mr. R. A. Butler, said that the port of Hoihow had been re-opened by the Japanese naval authorities to general shipping.

He added that the report that the Japanese were establishing a submarine base on Hainan Island had not been confirmed.

BLOCKADE MAY LAST FOR YEARS!

BERLIN, TO-DAY.

MR. TASHIRO, THE JAPANESE CONSUL-GENERAL IN TIEN-TSIN, IN AN INTERVIEW GRANTED TO A SEMI-OFFICIAL GERMAN NEWS AGENCY, DECLARED THAT JAPAN IF NECESSARY WOULD CONTINUE THE BLOCKADE OF THE BRITISH CONCESSION IN TIEN-TSIN FOR ONE OR TWO YEARS.

He claimed that the economic effects of the blockade were being felt in Tientsin in the British Concession.

Non-British firms had left the concession territory while more than ten Chinese exchange banks had moved into the Japanese concession. The result of the many Chinese evacuating the British concession was beginning to show signs of shortage of labour.

Mr. Tashiro said that the longer the blockade continued, the quicker new business centres developed outside the concession territory. The Japanese authorities had decided to build new business premises on a large scale and new roads.

THE YEAR IN PALESTINE

The Jewish Agency was cold-shouldered in the British Government's recent White Paper but it is the representative body for the Palestine Jews and is so recognised in the Mandate. It has now sent its annual report to the League of Nations, just at the time when the League's Mandates Commission is to consider the British Government's policy for turning over the Jewish community as a minority to an independent (Arab) State. The report shows the Jews of Palestine reacting to the terrorism of the Arabs, the political uncertainty, and the Administration's policy of restricted immigration with the enterprise and tenacity which have already built up a fine structure and will yet bring them final success. During the last three years of disorders created by the Arabs more than 50,000 Jews have been absorbed without the level of unemployment being increased; that number might doubtless have been greater in any case and would have been much greater but for the Arab disturbances. Fourteen new agricultural settlements were established during 1938, of them a pioneering centre of industry and culture, and many thousand acres both of urban and of rural land were acquired. But perhaps the most interesting thing of all is the witness borne by Dr. Weizmann to the benefit which Palestine has derived from the "technical skill, initiative, and experience" that have been introduced into the country by refugees from Germany and the two countries, Austria and Czechoslovakia, which Germany has seized. It is notorious that the Jews of Vienna and other places had an immense and profitable knowledge (for Germany) of many foreign markets. Germany has thrown away that advantage. Palestine has gained it—and, of course, so has any other country also that had the sense to seize its opportunity.

What Air Raids Would Be Like

The latest Bulletin of the Air-raid Defence League in London is likely to make many people sit up. Basing itself on the amounts that Germany has spent on bombing aeroplanes—it estimates them at £250,000,000, with an annual maintenance of £80,000,000,—it concludes that Germany must inevitably intend to attempt to win the next war by a lightning stroke. For sufficient reasons, which it gives, it believes that at first the big centres of population, and particularly London (partly because the Thames makes it so easy to locate in all weathers), will be the targets.

The league calculates that in one day and night 1,400 bombers, arriving in relays of thirty or so at average intervals of half an hour, might make successive attacks on London. Assessing our various means of active defence without undue gloom and concluding that half the raiders might be prevented from dropping their bombs, it estimates that even so London might suffer 35,000 casualties in twenty-four hours. High-explosive, it believes, would be the chief weapon, but gas and incendiary bombs must not be left out of account. After a few days, however, it considers that for various reasons the period of lightning mass attack would give place to a "normal" period, in which the effects of air raids could be strictly limited by our defensive measures. Enemy losses, disregarded by him in the first furious attack, would be regarded more seriously in the second period, when his machines were beginning to be needed on the fighting front.

Reporters And Members

Once again there has been a discussion in the House of Commons on the reporting of speeches, and this time members had nothing but kind things to say of the reporters. The gentlemen of the Gallery no longer resort to their former methods of keeping members aware of the dangers of complaint. More than one important member in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries found that it was dangerous to quarrel with the reporters, who had methods of counter-offence which they did not hesitate to use. One of the simpler and more effective was to refrain from reporting a member's speech at all, and a short experience of this "medicine" generally sufficed. Another method alleged against the gallery was to make nonsense of members' speeches, and even William Wilberforce had to complain of this on one occasion, though he got little sympathy from the House.

Sometimes, no doubt, members were a little unreasonable in their complaints against the gallery, as in the reported instance of the Irish member who challenged the accuracy of a report. He was asked from the chair whether he had not said the words reported. "I did say the words," he replied, "but did I say them in italics?" Perhaps most members would still subscribe to Wedderburn's tribute: "There are many things in my speech which I did say and there are many more which I wish I had said."

NAZIS WEARING JAP. UNIFORMS

Shanghai, To-day.

It is unconfirmably reported that a number of German soldiers, dressed in the uniform of the Japanese Naval Landing Party, were seen marching recently in North Szechuen Road.

It is also said that several had been seen outside the huge building near Hongkew Park forming the Naval Landing Party's headquarters.

Other reports state that the men are veterans of the Spanish war of intervention and that they arrived here in a Japanese freighter.—Reuter.

While, like Reuter, the "China Mail" is not in a position to support the authenticity of this report, readers may recall that a few weeks back there was a message from Spain that a number of Italian troops, headed by several officers, had announced their intention of coming to China to fight the Chinese on behalf of the Japanese.

It is possible, therefore, that these men are Italians, if in fact they were actually seen.

Mobs Attack British Consulate

Tsingtao, To-day.

Japanese-sponsored Chinese demonstrators stoned and threw fire-crackers at the British Consulate-General yesterday morning, causing some damage.

Demonstrators also attacked the premises of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank and the Chartered Bank, smashing doors and windows, and distributed thousands of anti-British handbills.

Japanese troops saw the incidents but did not intervene.

The British Consulate takes a serious view of the matter, on which it is sending a full report to London.—Reuter.

Washington, To-day.

Acting on instructions from Mr. Cordell Hull (Secretary of State), the charge d'affaires in Tokyo has made what the State Department terms "emphatic representations" to Mr. Arita, the Japanese Foreign Minister.

The representations included a specific protest against the "indiscriminate" bombings of Chungking, which "seriously endangered American life and property."—Reuter.

LONDON PREPARING
NEW PROPOSALSONLY WAY OUT OF THE DIFFICULTY

London, To-day.

Still another plan is being prepared in the event that the Anglo-Franco-Soviet negotiations in Moscow are further deadlocked, it is learned in informed circles.

This plan, it is declared, provides for an exchange of Notes in which the three Powers will establish their conformity of attitude and will give assurances of their willingness to accord assistance to any country which is attacked.

The diplomatic correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" is not optimistic over the outcome of the negotiations.

Breakdown of the negotiations, he says, would not affect the present situation in Poland.

It is assumed the correspondent is expressing the view of the Foreign Office.

"TRIAL NEGOTIATIONS"

Attention is called to the fact that "trial negotiations" between Moscow and Warsaw have been started regarding deliveries of foodstuffs and war materials in the event of conflict.

Meanwhile, "The Times" publishes a leading article entitled "The Baltic Difficulty."

The newspaper says the only way out of the complicated situation is a limited mutual assistance pact between Britain, France and the Soviet. — Trans-Ocean.

Complete silence is observed in official circles regarding the Moscow negotiations.

It is understood that the date of the next meeting between Sir William Seeds and M. Molotov, the Soviet Foreign Commissar, will not be fixed until the Cabinet has sent further instructions, which will be based on the Ambassador's latest report. — Trans-Ocean.

PRINCE PAUL GOING TO LONDON

London, To-day.

Prince Paul of Yugo-Slavia, is to come to London, the "Daily Express" reports.

The visit, of which the paper says it is informed by diplomatic quarters, is to take place in the last weeks of July or August. — Trans-Ocean.

HALIFAX VISIT VETOED

London, To-day.

Questioned in the Commons on the Moscow negotiations the Prime Minister said: "His Majesty's Government and the French Government have sent further joint instructions to their representatives at Moscow who have now had two further conversations with M. Molotov. Certain further suggestions have been made by the Soviet Government which are now under consideration, and on the other points we have not yet received their reply."

Mr. Chamberlain replied in the negative when it was suggested to him that he should arrange for a visit by the Foreign Secretary to Moscow. — British Wireless.

APPRECIABLE DIFFICULTIES

Paris, To-day.

The Foreign Minister, M. Bonnet, examined M. Molotov's reply to the latest Franco-British proposals and later telephoned to the French Ambassador in London, M. Corbin.

It is understood in diplomatic circles that despite the fact that an agreement has been reached on a great number of points, the negotiations are faced with appreciable difficulties as result of new demands by M. Molotov. — Reuter.

TORCH RACE FOR
OLYMPIC GAMES

Helsingfors, To-day.

The traditional torch race from Athens to Helsingfors will be held in connection with the 1940 Olympics, it has been decided by the organising committee.

The dates of the various competitions have also been decided. Forty-five nations have announced their participation in the Games, including Japan, whose presence had previously been doubtful.

Iran will enter the Games for the first time. — Trans-Ocean.

NEW CONCORDAT

Rome, To-day.

The former Apostolic Nuncio in Prague, Monsignore Ritter, who is now accredited at Pressburg in the same capacity, is expected in Rome shortly to prepare negotiations between the Holy See and Slovakia for conclusion of a Concordat. — Trans-Ocean.

TOKYO TALKS

SCEPTICISM
IN LONDON

London, To-day.

THE British Ambassador in Tokyo, Sir Robert Craigie, has not yet received any definite assurance from the Japanese Government regarding the date on which the Anglo-Japanese negotiations will commence.

The negotiations were originally scheduled to begin on July 7, and were then postponed till July 13. Now it is reported that conversations will not be opened till Friday this week.

The delay in opening the negotiations has aroused considerable scepticism here regarding the likelihood of their success.

This view is confirmed by the latest news received from North China, where Japanese-inspired anti-British demonstrations are continuing. — Trans-Ocean.

FOREIGN LEGION
IN FRANCE

Paris, To-day.

The first battalion of the French Foreign Legion arrived on board the "Sidi Bel Abbes" in Marseilles yesterday on its way to Paris to participate in the celebrations of the French national festival on July 14.

The French papers point out this is the first occasion since 1859 that regimental colours of the Foreign Legion have been brought to France. — Trans-Ocean.

SENTENCE ON
MADRID LEADER

Madrid, To-day.

The former Republican president of the Cortes (Parliament), Julian Besteiro, was yesterday indicted for activities against the State and was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

The prosecutor had pleaded for the death penalty, but the court martial decided otherwise. — Trans-Ocean.

CONTROL YUAN
MEMBER PASSES

Chungking, To-day.

Mr. Mao Sze-chang, member of the Control Yuan, passed away in his native town at Fenghua, Chekiang, on July 4.

Mr. Yu Yu-jen, President of the Control Yuan, has sent a telegram of condolence to the family of the deceased. — Central News.

The third executive council meeting of the Chinese American Institute of Cultural Relations will be held at the Chinese Merchants Club on Thursday at 6.30 p.m.

OUR SAVINGS! £1,496,000,000

Recently a firm wrote to the British Museum and asked the advertising rates in the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle. They thought it was a magazine published by the Museum.

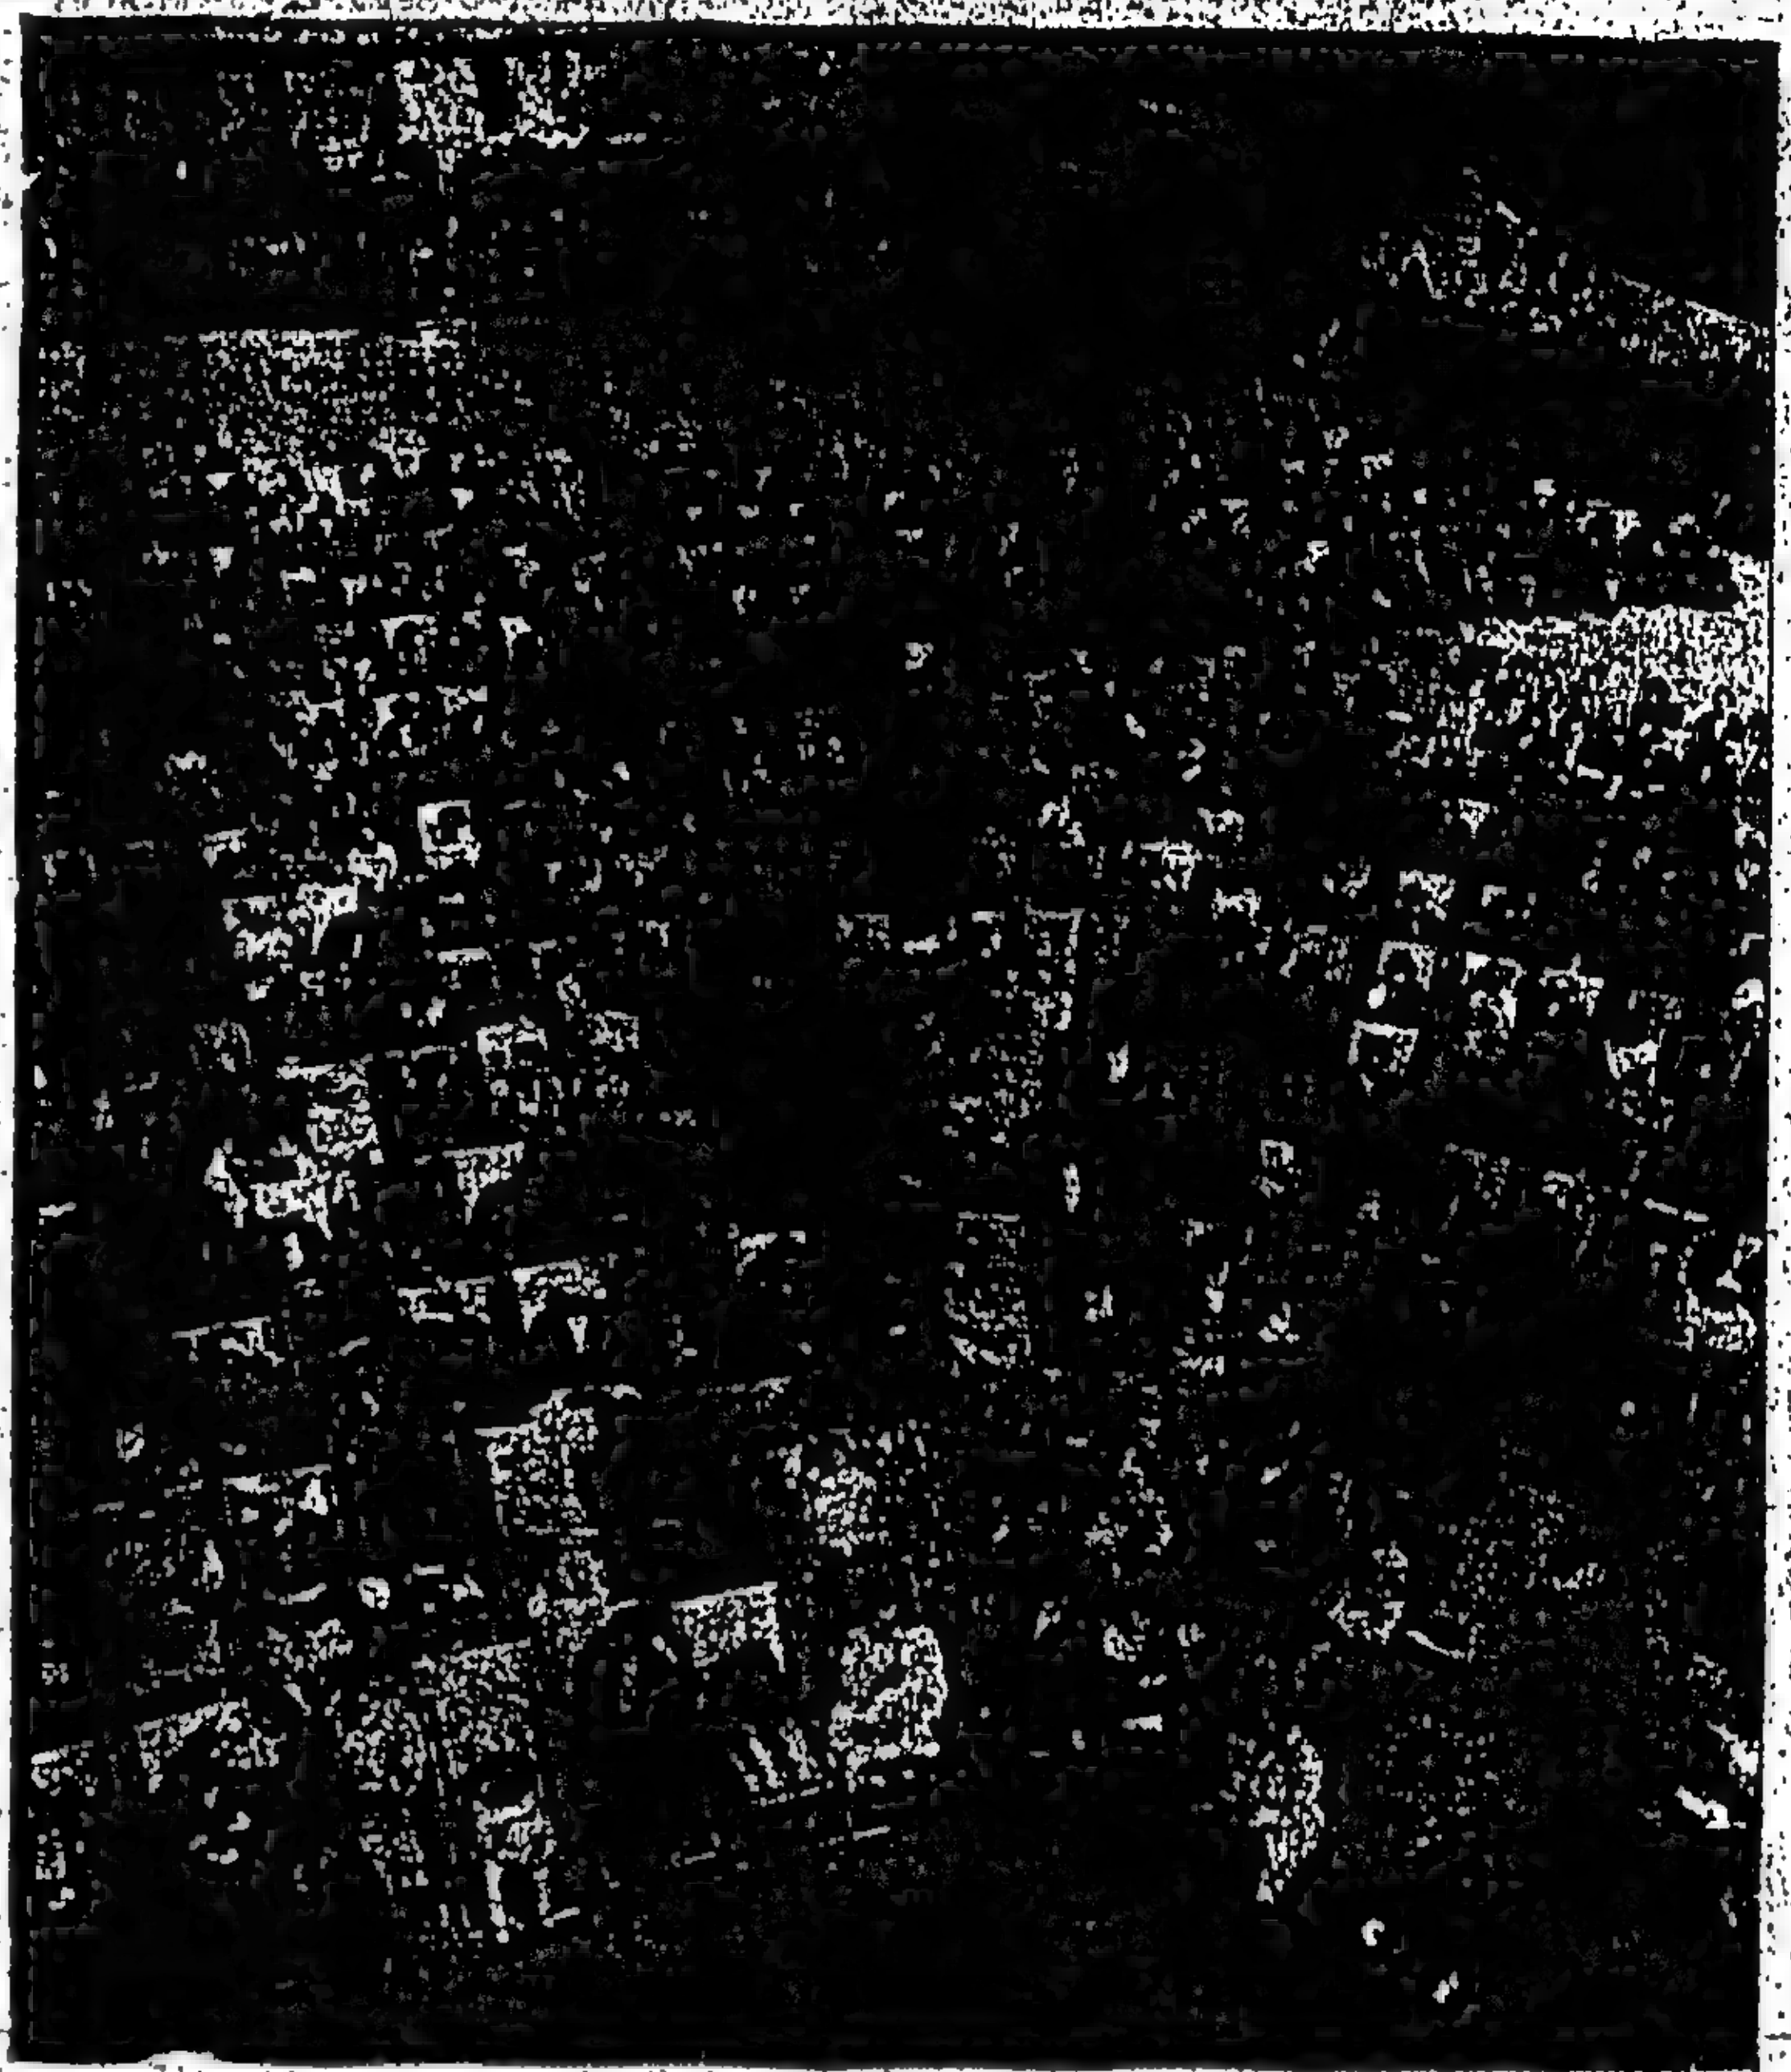

(Actually, the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, earliest history of England in English (10th and 11th centuries) are priceless manuscripts held by the Museum).

GETTING HIS SLICE

A seaman, fined 5s. for drunkenness at West Ham, was stated to have entered a fried fish shop and insisted upon being allowed to fry his own supper. Police elected him and found him wielding a fish slice. But when Thomas Gunn pleaded guilty to the offence he was blissfully ignorant of what had happened.

Mr. Arundell Esdaile, secretary of the Museum, told this story in his presidential address to the Library Association in Liverpool.

Discussing present-day reading, he said that many books dealing with current matters of public controversy were "high explosives of hysteria and lies," and asked: "Is not the reading of 'Vanity Fair' or 'Kim' a thousand times more profitable than the reading of the latest vapouring about the Spanish civil war or the latest book on flying."

This picture just received from Morecambe shows crowds in the deck-chairs in the warm sunshine.

COAST ROUTE BY-PASS

Work is about to begin on the Asford by-pass, Kent, the first of the four great improvement schemes planned for the London-Folkestone road A 20—the "Gateway of England."

PEPYS DAY IN CITY

The Lord Mayor, Sir Frank Bowater, and Sheriffs attended the Pepys Commemoration service at St. Olave's, Hart-street, when a new wreath was unveiled on the diarist's monument.

INTEREST AT 433 PER CENT.

When Mrs. Kate Ekillett, of Byron-avenue, East Ham was summoned at West Ham for carrying on business as a money-lender without a certificate, it was said she lent money to people living in a block of flats, and charged 1d. a week interest on each shilling. Interest worked out at 433-1/3 per cent. a year. She was fined £5.

CRIMINALS: "POOR DEVILS"

Sir Gervais Rentoul, K.C., the West London magistrate, told the New Health Club in London that he did not believe in the born criminal. "It seems to me," he said, "that most habitual criminals behave as such because they have no education or capacity to be anything else."

OUR SAVINGS! £1,496,000,000

Lord Mottistone, Chairman of the National Committee, told the London Savings Committee that at the end of last May there were 41,773 savings groups in the country, an increase on the year of 2,348, and a record.

The balances held on April 30, 1939, were £693,000,000 in the Post Office savings bank, £284,000,000 in trustee saving banks, and £518,000,000 in National Savings Certificates—a total of £1,496,000,000.

This is an increase on the year of £56,000,000, or more than £1 5s. for every man, woman and child in the country.

Captain Crookshank, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, told the meeting that much of our greatness as a country and an Empire had been built up by the readiness of citizens to undertake voluntary work of national importance.

Then he added: "If more of us would follow the noble example which the King and Queen had set in the matter of voluntary service our country would be even a happier place than it is to-day."

NEW GLIDING RECORD

CLAIMED

A new record for gliding across water is claimed by Mr. Ted Bellak, who made a flight of ninety miles across Lake Michigan.

The world record for long distance gliding is said to be 225 miles, accomplished by a German, Brautigan, last April. Britain's long distance record is 206 miles, put up by Philip Wills, in 1938.

RACECOURSE WATER SUPPLY

Doncaster Corporation has sunk a second borehole on the racecourse, and can now use 600,000 gallons of water a day on the three miles of track it owns without touching town supplies.

There was an amusing episode at the official opening by the Deputy Mayor of Sir Frank Bowater, G.B., of the new Cheesington (South) Elephant. The three-year-old baby elephant was present at the ceremony, but got rather fed up with the proceedings and started to wander off towards the station buildings.

BOYCOTTING T

Chairman of the Co-operative Wholesale Society's Finance Committee and member of the Co-operative Party Executive, develops here the theme of his recent speeches which have attracted wide attention.

EVERY democratic nation in the unspeakable horrors of another world war. Europe to-day lives in fear of another war. And across the whole world this fear strikes at the well-being of every nation which believes in ordered progress and the rule of law.

It matters not whether the nation lies in the path of German, Italian, or Japanese expansion. Another spark may well set the whole world aflame.

The democratic, peace-loving nations are not so helpless that they cannot check the onward march of the aggressors. In 1919 they forged an instrument—the League of Nations—which could have held any aggressor and brought him to his senses. But Britain and France were afraid to take risks for peace. They made the League impotent and destroyed the only real defence of peace—collective security.

Yet even at this late hour it is not too late to ensure that further aggression will not be tolerated, that the rights of small nations will be protected, and the world freed from the haunting fear of war.

PEACE, and an honourable peace, can be preserved if the four most powerful nations in the world—America, Russia, France and Britain—will speak with one voice now, expressing their determination to act together in defence of any country that needs aid against threats and terrorism.

Such a declaration must not be delayed. The tragedy of 1914 must not be repeated.

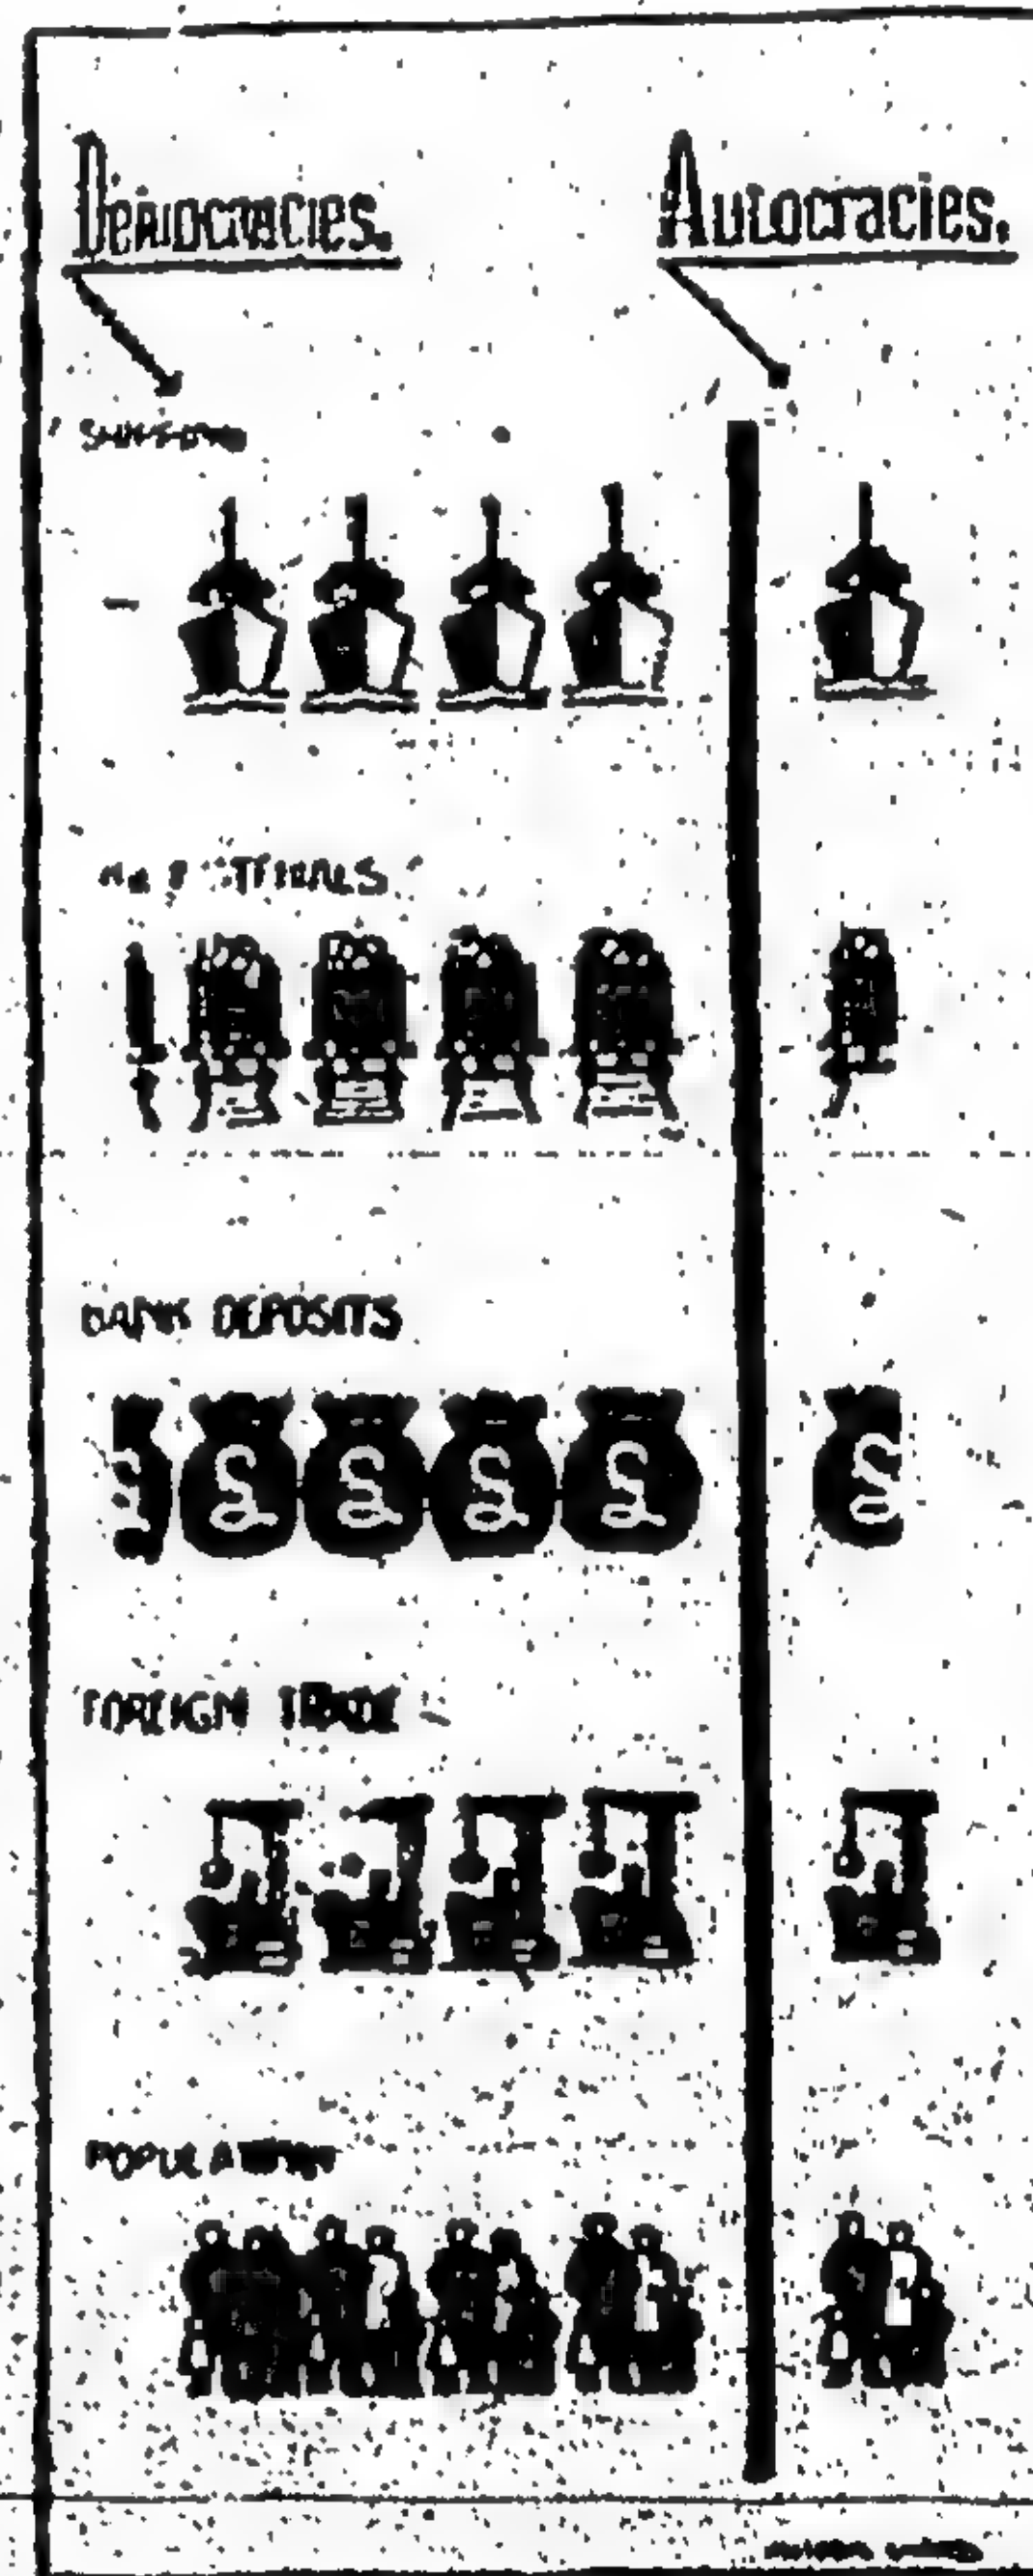

Sir Norman Angell and others who have studied the causes of the last war have given convincing proof that it might have been averted if Great Britain had declared earlier her intention to go to war if Belgium were invaded.

Therefore, these four key nations must speak now with firmness, with sincerity, with language that commands confidence, if the world is to be saved from

In place of the fear that now grips the civilised world we must implant faith and courage. America, Russia, France and Britain must prove that they mean to safeguard the liberties and the freedom of the civilised world.

ARMAMENTS are being hurriedly piled up, but no declaration has been made as to their potential use. As democrats, we would prefer to gain our aim without recourse to war. The tradition of democracy in Britain, has taught us to prefer arbitration to armaments, concililiation to conflict. If conciliation by the Powers is refused, then we must resort to the power of the sword.

WHO HAS THE MOST POWER?

America, Britain, and the democracies, must show enough to enforce isolation and the comity trade service.

By refusing the ships of the world by refusing ports, the trade could be strangled. K. Streit has said 'Now', the of the democracy overwhelmingly of Fascist nations control Fascist States.

than 1 per cent. of the world's oil and cotton, only 2 per cent. of its tin and wool, 4 per cent. of its gold, and 8 per cent. of its iron ore and copper.

Again, it is the democracies who control the world's finances. Bank deposits within the democ- cracies amount to about £20,000,000,000, within the Fascist States to about £3,000,000,000. Neither Germany, Italy, nor Japan could contemplate a major war if they knew they could not obtain cre- dit facilities and materials from abroad.

TO preserve peace we need not merely make threats of what would happen if war was declar- ed. We can strike now to show the aggressors that we will not tolerate their methods. We should refuse to trade with them.

The democracies, with their total annual foreign trade of £3,393,000,000, can do without the trade of Germany, Italy and Japan, whose combined imports and exports amount to £925,000,000.

This step—severance of trade relations—would bring a change in attitude now, for the totalitar- ian States cannot prepare for war, let alone wage war, without imports from the democracies.

If war must be contemplated, the combined strength of the democratic Powers is so overwhelm- ing as to make any aggressor think twice before embarking on further campaigns.

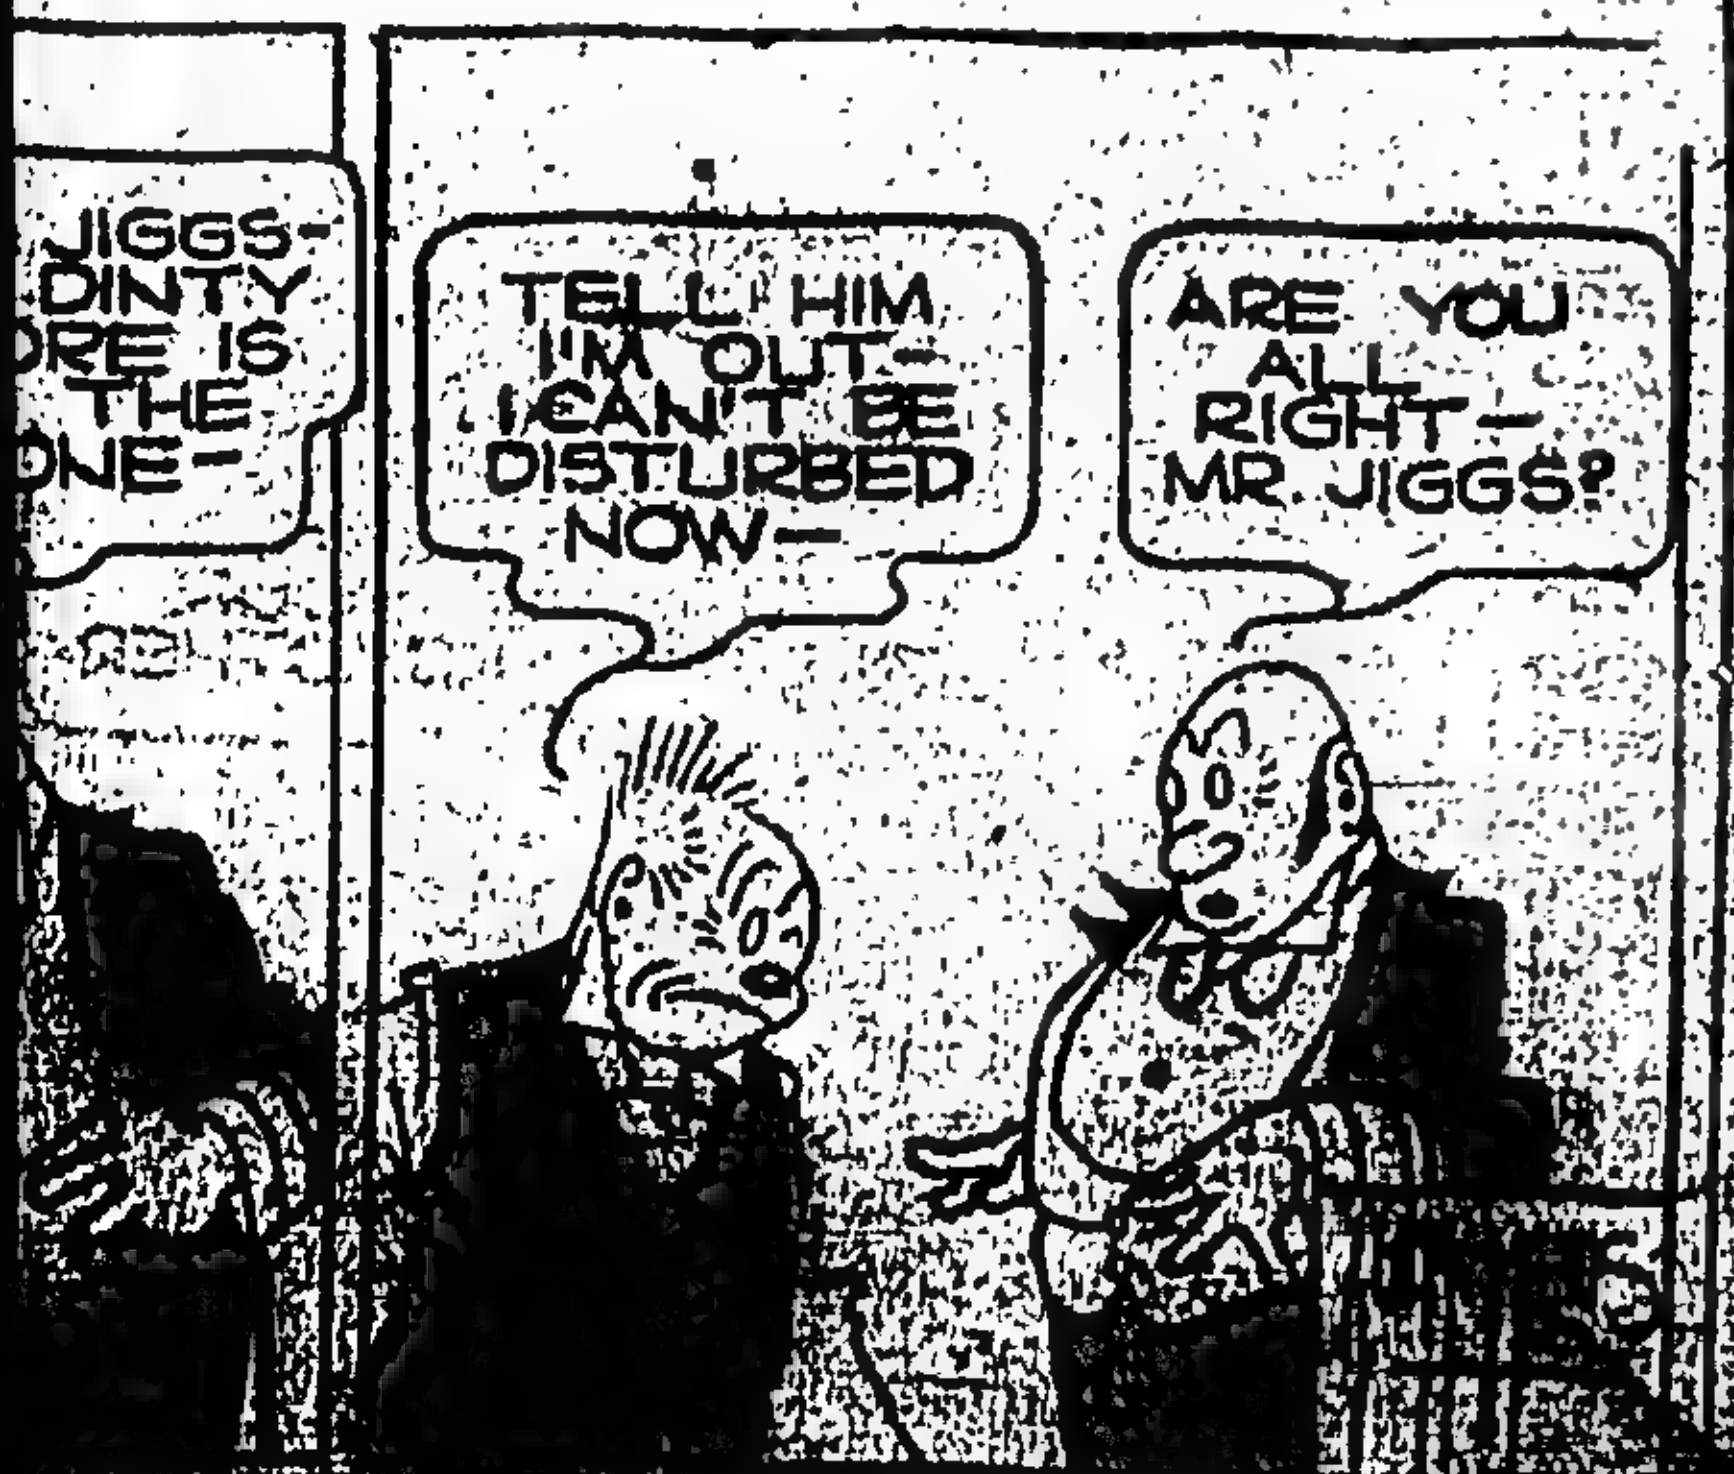

Against the combined popula- tion of 264,000,000 of Germany, Italy, and Japan, the democra- cies, with their empires, muster 1,088,000,000.

Here is the strength of peace. It lies in the overwhelming power in the trade, the finance, the raw materials, and the man-power of the democracies.

The democracies must accept their supreme responsibility — collectively to organise now their power against aggression. If they will do this, peace and our demo- cratic liberties will not perish.

Recent Survey Indicates American Girls Rate Man's Nice Manners And Good Grooming Above His Money

If vain males think the girls are out after their money or pay-checks they had better sit up and take notice! For a recent survey, clearly indicates that the average girl rates good grooming and nice manners far above money.

Here is one of three best letters and many a boy should clip it and paste it on his mirror!

"I like a man:

—who is tender. I think tender-

I like a man who can make it seem like an adventure to sit on a stool at a lunch counter.

ness is the most endearing quality a man can possess.

—who is courteous and considerate. My ideal man would always treat me with as much courtesy as if he were meeting me for the first time.

—who is loyal. I want my fiancé or husband to defend me, if necessary, even though he thinks I might be wrong.

—who is dependable. One who will call me when he says he will and not the next week or the next month.

—who is honest and candid.

—who can make it seem like an adventure to sit on a stool at a lunch counter and eat a hamburger with him.

—who notices what I wear and compliments my efforts to be a credit to him when we step out.

—who is faultlessly groomed. He may have only two suits but those two should be always pressed. His shoes should be shined. His linen should be immaculate and he should be freshly shaved when he calls for me. His fingernails clean!

—who is interested in my problems and will listen to them sometimes. Once in a while I want to talk about myself, my hopes, my fears and my ambitions. I don't always want to listen to his!

—who is liked by other men. One who is a square-shooter."

AND NOW FOR DISLIKES

"I dislike a man:

—who calls me and says: "What are you doing to-night?" This puts a girl out on a limb. She must commit herself without knowing what she is letting herself in for.

—who tries to get credit for doing nothing. (One who says: "I almost called you last night," or "I thought of driving you to work the morning it was twenty below zero!" That makes me see red!

—who thinks of nothing but candy for a gift. I would love a bunch of violets for my coat, a new book, a knock-knock for my charm shelf.

—who is always vague about what we are going to do when we step out. Not knowing whether to dress for a hockey game or for a dinner dance is distressing.

—who thinks I am out to trap him if I make a special effort to be friendly or interested!

—who thinks he can win my favour by devoting himself to another girl. It never works.

—who says he would give his life for me, but who passes up all opportunities to do small favours. I really don't want him to die for me, but he could drive me to the dressmaker's!

—who dines in solitary splendour at one of our better places, but when he wants to see me thinks it would be fun to watch me stir up a witch-rabbit!

Sweet Sayings About Women

It was Jeremy Taylor who styled woman "the precious porcelain of human clay." The Emperor Napoleon said: "A handsome woman pleases the eye, but a good woman pleases the heart. The one is a jewel, the other a treasure."

Disraeli — Lord Beaconsfield — wrote: "It is at the foot of woman we lay the laurels, that without her smile would never have gained." (Was his adored Queen in his mind?) He went on: "It is her image that strings the lyre of the poet, that animates the voice in the blaze of eloquent faction, and guides the brain in the august toils of stately councils." (Yes, surely his Queen.) And further: "Whatever be the lot of man, if he only love and be loved he must strike a balance in favour of existence, for love can illumine the dark roof of poverty and lighten the fetters of the slave."

Another writer—Hargrave—thus enthused: "Women are the poetry of the world, in the same sense that stars are the poetry of heaven."

With all of which the average woman should be well content.

NEW VITALITY AFTER FEVER

During fever, body tissues rapidly waste away and the patient quickly loses weight unless he is supplied with adequate and suitable food.

Horlicks supplies the nutritive elements which the body requires and enables the exhausted body to rebuild itself quickly.

Doctors have proved that Horlicks is not only easily digested but gives your body all the nourishment it needs. You build up strength to resist disease at once. So you get your life back and your health restored. Get Horlicks today at your store.

What The Stars Foretell

By MARY BLAKE

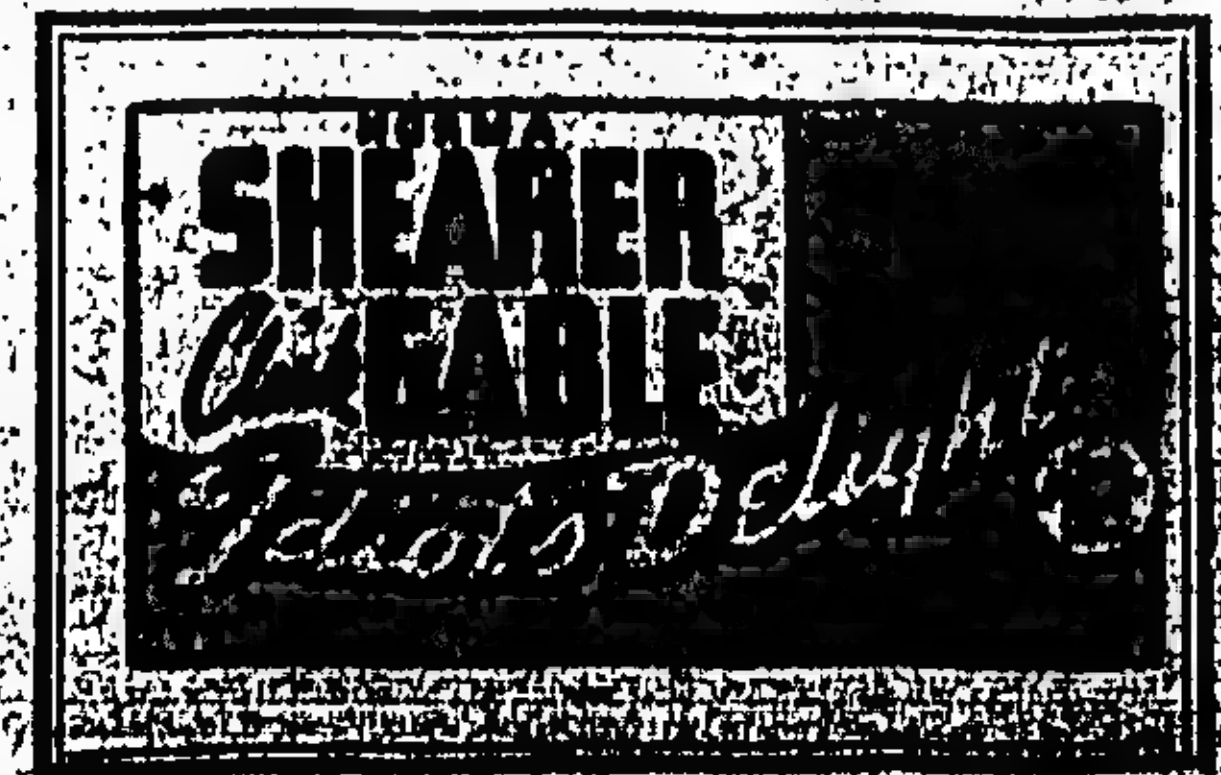

A tendency to do things in a slipshod manner may prevail this day. By systematic and avoid using "hit or miss" methods, if you wish to get through the day successfully. Dilatory tactics may be the principal cause of monetary losses in commercial circles. Prompt decisions and actions are essential to satisfactory results in practically every line of business. Narrow minded men and women are very apt to be in evidence this day, and should be treated with toleration rather than contempt. Your friends or business acquaintances are likely to move in a rut, so do not waste your energy trying to get them to take a path of your own selection. In social circles, the average conversation is likely to be sustained by a good deal of romancing. This propensity requires your not taking everything you hear too seriously. Married and engaged couples, as well as those engaged in the gentle art of wooing, will find that they can win far more with smiles than with frowns this day.

If a woman and July 11 is your birthday, you ought to be able to overcome great difficulties. Your life is likely to be very interesting, with plenty of excitement to keep you on the qui vive. You should be well fitted for a social career, even if you are engaged in business or a profession. You may require plenty of light and cheerful surrounding to keep you in the best of spirits. Never permit success to go to your head or make you forget old friends. You are probably very frank, and it might pay you to frequently sugar-coat some of your words. You ought to be eminently fitted to be a writer, teacher, singer, lecturer, sales agent or actress. Women born on this date are usually fortunate in selecting congenial husbands, who are capable of making them very happy.

The child born on July 11 requires praise and encouragement to stimulate its efforts in doing its best work. Children born on this date are often mentally very well-balanced and capable of doing some very clever work in any subject that they are interested in.

If a man and July 11 is your natal day, you are probably very impulsive, perhaps inclined to be impatient.

SLIM CHIC IN WOMEN'S SIZES

Here's a perfect design for your "good silk dress"—you know, the one you reach for more often than any other in your wardrobe. The type in which you always feel well-dressed and smart, because the lines are so simple, well-bred and absolutely right. It's nice for summer afternoons in town, and for travel, too. You just can't help having a nice figure in a dress cut so beautifully—with lengthening princess panels, high shoulders, bosom gathers, and a flattering, narrow roll collar. The bodice fullness is so placed as to give the effect of a vestee; it's very soft and becoming.

Make this of flat crepe, silk print, georgette or chiffon, and rest assured it will make you look as slim and suave and smart as you want to look!

Witty Kitty

You know you are the young, smart, successful woman who has arrived at the point where you feel life should be all work and no play.

Easy-To-Make Accessory Set

Snug-waisted jacket, flap, envelope bag, tam and slip-on gloves to wear in white with your coloured sports frocks, or in bright colours or prints with white. It offers the smartest, easiest way to brighten up your wardrobe. Simple darts are responsible for the slick, slim, Victorian fit of the jacket. Notice the attractive and unusual cut of the collar, ending in wide lapels.

Pique, linen, chintz, sharkskin and shantung are nice materials for this set.

Latest Novelties In Jewellery

The latest bracelets are designed not to meet round the wrist. Necklaces are following the same vogue and appear in a horseshoe shape, hanging from the back of the neck and leaving a bare space at the throat front. These have to be made of a fairly firm substance, and flexible gold is often used. This is carved in a snake-like design, or a spray of small gold flowers is fixed to an expanding gold or platinum chain.

Green, one of the coolest colours for summer wear, is the season's predominating jewel colour.

Emeralds figure largely in the latest designs for clip-brooches and bracelets. A novel clip-brooch is shaped like a lizard in platinum, set with brilliants and tiny emeralds.

A fat toad, perched on one side of a plain gold bracelet, has two emerald eyes. The rest of its body is of carved jade, with the legs and head outlined in gold.

Another brooch is in a kingfisher design, the wings formed of paler coloured emeralds than the rest of the brooch, and the beak consisting of one single square-cut emerald.

An adaptable piece of jewellery to wear with formal evening dress is a sapphire and diamond collet. The whole design is outlined in different shades of emerald-cut diamonds, large yellow stones interspersed with sapphires forming a pendant in the front, smaller white diamonds and pale sapphires graduating towards an oval raised diamond clip at the back.

By unhooking the front pendant and back clip a bracelet is formed and the pendant takes to pieces, forming two tiny diamond clip-on earrings and a large sapphire clip-brooch.

JAPS. KEEP BRITISH COUPLE OUT OF SWATOW

Mr. C. F. J. Simpson, installation manager of the A.P.C. in Swatow, is in Hong Kong faced with the problem of how to return to his port.

Mr. Simpson recently travelled to Singapore where he was married on July 1, and he and his bride were refused permission by the Japanese authorities at Swatow to land from the S.S. Kai Ying.

Reason for the refusal is believed to be that Mr. Simpson was not in possession of a landing permit from the Japanese Consul in Hong Kong.

WANG STILL IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, To-day.

Mr. Wang Ching-wei, expelled Kuomintang leader, is still in Shanghai and has not left for Tsingtao, as previously reported, to attend the Conference of the "reformed" and "provisional Government."

The Kuomintang rebel, it is learned, is at present residing in Hongkew under Japanese protection, but has despatched some of his trusted colleagues to represent him at the Conference at Tsingtao. —Our Own Correspondent.

JAPS. TO STAGE BIG PUSH?

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY.

IT IS REPORTED THAT THE JAPANESE HAVE COMPLETED PLANS FOR ANOTHER GENERAL OFFENSIVE ON ALL FRONTS IN CHINA.

Troops and war supplies have been concentrating on all fronts during the last two months.

It is understood that the order for a general attack will be given shortly after the conclusion of the conference of the "reformed" and provisional governments in Tsingtao.

The Chinese are moving up crack troops to man all defences. Front line soldiers are also being replaced. —Our Own Correspondent.

ANTI-BRITISH MOVEMENT IN TAIYUAN

Hingtai, To-day.

The Japanese-sponsored anti-British movement in Taiyuan, capital of Shensi under Japanese occupation, has been intensified.

A large number of anti-British placards and cartoons have been put up in the streets. Under the supervision of the puppet authorities parades have been held. —Central News.

LOCAL DOLLAR

The demand rate on the Hong Kong dollar to-day was 1/2-23/32.

"Spot" silver was quoted in London at 16-1/16 and forward at 15-5/8.

The London on New York rate was quoted at £—U.S.$4.6812 and New York on London at $—U.S.$4.68-1/8.

CHINESE PRESS COMING OUT

The "China Mail" learns that five evening editions of the Chinese Press will come out as usual this afternoon.

The papers will be published with the assistance of non-members of the Hong Kong Chinese Printers General Union, who have not joined the strike.

The "Nam Chung" evening edition of the "Wah Kiu Yat Pao" will be reproduced from line blocks, as was the "Wah Kiu Yat Pao" this morning.

The other evening papers which will be published are the "China Evening News," "Ta Kung Evening Press," "Kung Sheung Evening Press," and the "Sing Tao Evening Press."

ANGLO-POLISH TALKS

London, To-day. The Director of the Polish State Bank, Col. Koc, who returned on Sunday from Warsaw to London, had a lengthy conversation with the Chief Economic Adviser to the British Government, Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, yesterday.

The Polish Ambassador, Count Raczynski, will be received by the Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, to-day.—Trans-Ocean.

If You Keep A Cat Keep She-Ko Too!

Cats' claws are sharp, so be prepared for a scratch by keeping She-Ko at hand ready to soothe and quickly heal the injury. The antiseptic properties of this ideal skin ointment safeguard against infection.

Other injuries, cuts, abrasions, bruises, burns, scalds, are best treated with She-Ko, which is equally beneficial and curative in cases of skin complaints such as eczema, ringworm, head and foot sores, ulcers, pimples, chapped lips and hands, chilblains.

She-Ko should have a place in every home. It is a Dr. Williams Medicine Company product.

I.R.C. GIVEN BIG FRIGHT
BY CLUB DE RECREIO

Omar Rumjahn And Razack Win Vital Final Set

A.V. Remedios And John Gonsalves
Play Very Well

IN one of the most thrilling "A" Division League tennis matches of the season, Indian Recreation Club, one of three teams still in the running for the championship, yesterday beat Club de Recreio but can be considered very fortunate to have done so.

Leading 2-1 after the first round, I.R.C. conceded two sets in the second and, had A. V. Gosano and J. J. Remedios, who had played extremely well in the first two rounds, won their final set against Omar Rumjahn and I. M. A. Razack as they were expected to do, Recreio would have created an upset.

As was expected, S. A. and H. D. Rumjahn won all their engagements by convincing margins but in the second round they were given a great fight by A. V. Gosano and Remedios, although they eventually won 6-2.

The Portuguese pair played a brilliant brand of tennis and more than held their own in the extended rallies and it was only the fine understanding of the former Colony champions that enabled them to emerge at the right end of the score on the numerous occasion that deuce was called.

Also in the second round H. A. Barros and left-handed C. A. Barretto secured their only set, at the expense of A. H. Madar and A. R. Minu, while A. V. Remedios and John Gonsalves did very well to beat Omar Rumjahn and I. M. A. Razack.

GOSANO AND REMEDIOS
DISAPPOINT

Having regard to the manner in which they had played in the first two sets, when the last round was started it was generally expected that Gosano and J. J. Remedios would beat Rumjahn and Razack, and A. V. Remedios and Gonsalves would beat Minu and Madar. The latter did as expected, although they were carried to the vantage game but, as already stated, Gosano and Remedios lost unexpectedly.

A. V. Remedios and J. Gonsalves were the most successful home pairing and were good value for their two sets. Remedios was very powerful off the ground, while Gonsalves's deft volleying and fine positioning gave him every support. Barros and Barretto did all that could have been expected of them in winning one set.

I. R. C. were not convincing. With their line-up of yesterday, they cannot expect to beat either South China or C. R. C. if it ever comes to a replay.

Their best course, it is generally believed, would be to play A. R. Minu and I. M. A. Razack — a fine combination of steadiness and aggression-together and hope that these two will be able to obtain two sets to augment the three that the Rumjahn cousins are almost certain to secure against any team.

IMPORTANT
LEAGUE GAMES
TO-DAY

Two relatively important matches will be played in "B" Division of the Lawn Tennis League this afternoon. The two chief contenders, South China and K.C.C. "A" should be fully extended by Craigengower and Hong Kong Cricket Club respectively.

Neither team are taking any chances and will be at full strength.

Following is the programme and some of the teams:—

S. N. Wong and H. K. Ho, W. H. Ho and K. H. Li.
K.C.C. (A)—F. Grose and A. V. White, W. M. Gittins and B. Soltan, N. A. E. Mackay and D. J. N. Anderson.
C.D.R.—W. A. Reed and M. A. Oliveira, L. F. V. Ribeiro and A. M. Silva, M. A. Guterres and A. E. Xavier.
C.C.C.—W. J. Howard and George Lai (both not certain), George Choa and J. W. Leonard, E. Zimmermann and F. Zimmermann.
C.S.C.C.—I. Agafuroff and B. Agafuroff, J. A. Bandall and W. J. Skinner, S. Peck and H. Bicknell.

for Wyre, who gave the Medicals the victory by winning 150 to 100.

SEVERAL good breaks were made during the course of the evening, the most notable being a 28 by Opl. Whitton of the Military Police, who hit his opponent L/C. Williams with a total of 58. The highest on the Medicals side was made by Pte. Wyre, who hit his opponent L/C. Williams with a total of 58. The highest on the Medicals side was made by Pte. Wyre, who hit his opponent L/C. ARMY
SPORTLIGHT

(By "SQUADDY")

THE Billiards League is getting well under way now and although it is difficult to keep track of all the matches that are played I have been able to see one or two very evenly contested games.

Early last week 40th Company, R.E. defeated the Signals by the surprisingly narrow margin of 795 points to 784 on the aggregate. However, the Engineers won four games to the Signals two, and with a point for the highest aggregate ran out winners by five points to two.

As the R.E. side must be regarded as joint favourites with R.A.M.C. for the League title, the Signals are to be complimented on their gallant display, which I must confess rather surprised me.

SGT. SHIP, a player of repute, had quite an exciting game against L/Sgt. Brackenbury of the Signals, the game fluctuating first one way and then the other. Ship produced a final burst, however, and reached his 150 with 20 points to spare.

Another close affair was the C.S.M. Raeburn, R.E., versus Signalmen Murphy game. When the hundred was topped there was little to choose between the contestants and C.S.M. Raeburn only managed to get his nose in front to win by the close margin of 14 points.

A meritorious victory in this match was the win registered by Q.M.S. Thorpe of the Signals over Sgt. Davies the R.E. player. Davies is quite a useful performer and the fact that Thorpe was able to win 150 to 93 gives him the honours of the game.

The second heaviest defeat of the evening, was that of Wright of the Signals at the hands of L/C. Thompson of the Engineers, by 150 to 97.

Other results during the evening were Sgt. Gales, R.E. 150, L/C. Kitcher 121 and Sgt. O'Hanlon R.E. 102, Sgn. Morgan Signals 150.

Only one notable break was registered and that was a 25 by L/C. Thompson R.E.

In their other match last week, Signals managed to defeat the Corps of Military Police by 758 to 750 and won on the last game by four points to three.

TWENTY-SEVENTH Coy. R.A.M.C. continued on their winning way with a good win over the Military Police on Friday, by 775 to 731, the aggregate point giving them the victory by four points to three.

The proceedings opened with Cpl. Whitton of the Police opposing Cpl. Hillier, R.A.M.C., the latter one of the best of the Medicals players. Hillier managed to win rather easily, reaching his 150 with a lead of 84 over his opponent. Pte. Whybro made no mistake in his game with Cpl. Baxter, galloping away and obtaining his 150 whilst his opponent was struggling to amass a total of 58.

However, the next game saw the tide awing over in favour of Police, L/C. Willis defeating Lt. Dixon rather heavily 150 to 73. With L/C. Thompson defeating Pte. Howe of the Medicals in the next game 150 to 111, the match stood at two games all with the aggregate 17 points in the Medicals favour, and when L/C. Agafuroff managed to almost level up in the next game with a victory over Pte. Garside, R.A.M.C. by 150 to 100, everything depended on the last game between L/C. Garside and Cpl. Wyre.

Wyre reached the 150 mark in his game with the R.A.M.C. player, but Hillier, Indian Medicals, who had been out of the running for some time, managed to hit a 28, which gave him the victory by 150 to 100.

BASEBALL NOTES

GAME BETWEEN C.B.C. AND S. CHINA CALLED OFF

Umpire Horton Rules South China Not Trying

SAPPERS SHOW PROMISE IN PRACTICE GAME

(By "GRAND STAND")

AFTER outplaying and outhitting Chinese Baseball Club and leading 6-4 in the last inning, South China Athletic Association apparently got kind hearted and fittered the game away to Chinese Baseball Club.

After four C.B.C. runs crossed the plate in the seventh inning, Chief Umpire Charlie Horton called the game, alleging that the South China fielders were not trying to field batted balls.

Horton had warned the South China captain twice that if his team didn't "play ball" he would call the game off.

The climax of the farce was reached when Choy sent a grounder along the third base line for a homer and neither the third sacker nor the left fielder tried to field the ball.

At this stage umpire Horton called the game off.

After arbiters Horton and Dave Leonard had left the field the two teams finished the game with the help of two spectators as umpires.

The final score when Charlie Horton called the game was 8-6 in favour of Chinese Baseball Club.

South China's apparent generosity made them very unpopular with the spectators, the majority of whom left the field even before the game was called off by the umpire.

Worth Watching

Before the unfortunate incident happened, the game was a corker and was worth watching. It started with Wally Ching, C.B.C. lead off man, belting a homer in the first canto and C.B.C. scored two runs in the first inning.

South China replied, in their turn to bat, to equalise the count, 2-2.

South China scored three more in the third frame to take the lead 5-2 and C.B.C. annexed one marker in the third and one in the fifth.

Nam Hwa added one more in the fifth to put them two runs in the lead in the sixth inning.

In the farcical seventh, Chinese Baseball Club garnered four runs on four hits off George Wu, who placed himself on the mound in the last inning.

Earl Wong was not so successful on the mound for C.B.C. He was nicked for eight safeties in five two-thirds innings.

Tommy Chan was the other pitcher for Chinese Baseball Club and was credited the winning hurler.

Chung Hwa miscued seven times, four errors being committed by Short-stop Choy. For five innings Hank Chang pitched good ball for South China, allowing only five hits.

Bill Chang then took over in the sixth and pitched a shutout inning.

I cannot understand why George Wu took over mound duty in the last inning when Bill Chang was doing nicely on the slab.

In the first game on Sunday morning Club de Recreio took Hong Kong Baseball Club to town 17-9, for the Molthenmen's sixth straight defeat this season.

Seventeen-year old Billy Clague made his first appearance on the mound and pitched a creditable game for a beginner.

The Recreio men walked away with the game on 17 hits and seven walks. Led by Ernie Hearther and Joe Higgins with two each, the Hongkongites connected for seven hits which is the most blows they have made in one game this season! The Molthenmen only miscued twice, which is another improvement.

Fine Pitching

"Spotty" Pereira's out-drop deliveries had the H.K.B.C. batters buffaloed, and he struck out six.

Both double plays of the clash were executed by Hong Kong Baseball Club—Billy Clague to Sammy Izatt in the second to nail Carlos Marques and Charlie Figueiredo and in the third frame, Bill Smith to Hearther to Izatt to get rid of Tony Alves and Pereira.

Tony Alves had a bad day at the windy alley committing all the three bobbles made by his team.

Playing for the first time against a more experienced team, the newly organised Royal Engineers squad were humbled by a local picked team to the tune of 11-1.

The Engineers are learning the game fast and with some more practice against stiff competition they should be able to field a first-class team by next season.

The Sappers showed some real baseball sense in their game last Sunday. They even pulled a double play to the surprise of all!

In the fourth inning, McIlwraith to Shaw then to Welford to dispose of M. Arculli and Doc Molthen. The Sappers

CHINESE WATER-POLO LEAGUE

The Water-polo League, under the auspices of the Hong Kong Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation, starts this evening at North Point.

The first two matches are scheduled to be played at the South China Athletic Association Bathing Pavilion, commencing at 6.30 p.m.

The first will be between South China "A" and Chinese Bathing Club "A", and the second between Chung Shing "A" and Chung Shing "B".

were exceptionally brilliant in catching flies, although they were a bit slow in scooping grounders. They will learn as time marches on!

Goodman, the R.E. hurler, pitched rather well for a beginner, but he seems to have the idea that he must pitch the ball over the plate everytime he throws instead of mixing them up. "Honest Tom" Fox distinguished himself with the bat and base stealing.

He made two hits out of three trips to the plate and stole three bases.

Mayhew's Fine Display

Denyer at right field for the R.E.'s was exceptionally good at freezing flies.

"Oldtimer" Johnny Mayhew, who has been away from the game for some time, played at second base for the Hong Kong side. Although out of practice Johnny is still fast on his feet and can still play heady ball.

Nabbing a liner for a double killing in the third inning showed that Johnny can still play ball.

Water Polo Results

Playing at home, Y.M.C.A. were trounced to the tune of eight clear goals by Victoria Recreation Club in their Water Polo League games yesterday.

H.K.F.A. MEETING

TWO INTERPORTS WITH SHANGHAI?

A comprehensive review of the year's working was given by the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo when presiding at the Annual General Meeting of the Hong Kong Football Association yesterday.

In spite of the handsome profit made by the Association Mr. Lo drew attention to the fact that entrance fees to the Association amounted to only 10 per cent of the total expenditure and that the Association had to depend entirely on gate receipts to make ends meet.

Last year, he added, the Association was fortunate as far as gate receipts were concerned but he reminded the meeting that the question of increased subscriptions night again be brought up if the occasion arose.

A strong endorsement that the recommendation of the outgoing committee for a team to be sent to Shanghai and an invitation for a return visit in February be seriously considered by the new council was also made by Mr. Lo.

The following were elected officials for the coming year:

President:—The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith.
Vice Presidents:—The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Mr. J. Raiston, M.A., Capt. S. Burn.

Chairman:—Mr. W. Pryde.
Representative for Junior teams:—Mr. Wong Ka-tsun.

Lawrence (4), Roza Pereira (2) and Silva Netto (2) scored for the winners.

At Kennedy Town Chinese Bathing Club beat Chung Shing Benevolent Society by 3 goals to 1. Robert Chan scored a hat trick while Chung Shing replied through So Tim-mo.

A. M. Wabab, of Indian Recreation Club, is seen here delivering his wood in the League Match against Kowloon Cricket Club recently.

Following are averages for the West Indies Team to June 25:

SPORTS PARADE

LOCAL baseball circles are in an uproar. Umpire Horton, officiating at a League game on Saturday between Chinese Baseball Club and South China, washed his hands of the whole affair and walked off the field.

Reason for his action is rather extraordinary. He maintained that South China were "not playing ball" and after warning them that if they continued as they were doing he would call the game off, was as good as his word.

From all accounts, until this unfortunate occurrence, the game was full of interest. Both teams were playing an excellent brand of baseball. When it appeared fairly certain that South China would win, however, they suddenly "shut up shop" and literally threw the game away.

* * *

ONLY explanation can lie in the fact that their contemporaries, Chinese Baseball Club, still have a chance—an outside chance admittedly—of winning the League and defeat on Saturday would have greatly jeopardised, if not entirely ruined their prospects of finishing up in the major position.

Whatever the reasons for this anticlimax to a game which gave every promise of being one of the few great ones of the season, the public expressed their views on the matter in no uncertain manner. Long before the game finished, baseball fans were conspicuous by their absence. The farce taking place on the field was too much for the most ardent. Only unfortunates in the stand at the finish were three individuals, who were reporting the match and thus being paid to watch!

* * *

LOCAL baseball was showing some signs of taking a fairly healthy position among our many other sports. Gates at League matches, whilst not being of the record-breaking variety, were fairly satisfactory having regard to the counter-attractions of the beaches and other equally pleasant means of spending hot week-ends.

If we have many more debacles such as Saturday's, baseball officials are going to find it increasingly difficult to induce anybody to pay for admission to their stands.

For this reason if for no other, action of some sort is demanded. Admittedly the Baseball League is in rather a weak position with regard to the control of clubs but I feel that they should adopt a very strong attitude with regard to South China.

Baseball teams are not particularly plentiful here and one can well appreciate the desire of the League officials to keep all the teams they can functioning.

It will be a very short-sighted policy on their part, however, if this incident is overlooked. Apart from the fact that the League have their own umpires to stand by South China must be made to realise that there are certain ethics to be observed and whilst appreciating their desire to keep their contemporaries in the running, they should remember that they also have a responsibility to the public, who pay to see these games and are entitled to be served up with some value for their money.

* * *

WHILST on the subject of baseball, I might mention another matter that has been brought to my attention. This concerns the assessment of hits and errors. I don't set myself up as an authority on baseball but I do know that the sole arbiter of what is or is not a hit and what is or is not an error, is the scorer.

It is obvious that this gentleman is in no enviable position and, being human, is prone to errors himself. Nevertheless, it is his job and his job alone to make debit or credit entries with regard to players and it is hardly the thing for these players to argue their cases, as I have heard they are apt to do, and influence the poor harassed scorer into making changes against his original judgment.

I average which we ourselves have published in these columns are due to influence players into similar arguments with the result that their records at the end of the season will look better than they actually should do. I feel that it is in the best interests of all concerned not to publish them.

We will leave it at that!

DETAILED ACCOUNT OF LOUIS' WIN OVER GALENTO

Colourful Scenes At Ringside On Big Night

Loser's Amazingly Game Battle

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK JUNE 28.

A FORCE OF NEARLY 2000 POLICEMEN WERE PRESENT HERE TO-NIGHT WHEN JOE LOUIS, THE CHAMPION, AND TONY GALENTO, THE CHALLENGER, CLIMBED INTO THE RING FOR THEIR WORLD HEAVY-WEIGHT TITLE FIGHT.

A strong force also patrolled Harlem, the negro district of New York, to prevent any outbreaks of rioting such as followed the Louis-Schmeling fight in 1936, when Schmeling knocked out the negro.

Following allegations made by Joe Jacobs, Galento's manager, that Louis might have had a weapon in his gloves when he knocked out the German in the first round of their return fight last year, General J. J. Phelan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, announced to-day that the fighters will have to have their hands taped in the presence of the Deputy-Commissioners in their dressing-rooms, and that they will be accompanied right into the ring.

At the weighing-in this afternoon, Louis scaled 14 st. 4½ lbs., and Galento 16 st. 9¾ lbs.

A crowd of approximately 45,000—larger than was at first expected—jammed the Yankee Stadium for the most unusual Heavy-Weight Championship in years.

Four rows of seats were set up round the ring for newspapermen, and beyond them, in the first ringside seats, was a colourful assortment of State Governors, film stars, ex-fighters, Mayors, and Commissioners.

The night is perfect and cool, with a half-moon shining on the scene. Two small airships and some aeroplanes are cruising overhead.

The general opinion as to the likely result of the fight is in keeping with an amusing cartoon of a New York evening paper, which shows the interior of a hospital with a nurse answering the telephone, and saying, "No, Mr. Galento is not here yet."

One spectator entering the stadium the same time as the Press Association correspondent, came up saying, "Hey Mac, where's the body to be seen?"

Of some sixty sports writers polled for opinions, only three picked Galento to win. Louis is about an 8-to-1 favourite.

The flash lights of the Press photographers "popped" as Louis entered the ring accompanied by a roar of cheers. He was wearing his usual blue and red bath robe. Galento was dressed in a plain blue dressing gown with the word "Galento" written across his back. He got a good reception.

AN UNUSUAL SIGHT

There was an unusual sight when a dwarf some three feet tall entered the ring and shook hands with both fighters.

Galento looked very serious. The challenger's face was somewhat greasy, and the referee, Arthur Donovan, wiped it with a towel. Louis was as calm as ever.

In accordance with General Phelan's instruction nothing in the form of salve or medicament could be used in either man's face. Among those introduced in the ring was Mello Bettina, outstanding contender for the light-heavy-weight championship, and Jack Dempsey.

The referee forced Galento to take off his right glove after some argument with his trainer, Whitely Robinson, and felt inside it, and then passed it to Louis's manager, who then tested it.

Both apax, Galento crouches, and then sends one to Louis's body.

clinch, and then Galento lands a left and right to Louis's jaw. Louis covers up and backs to the ropes. Galento lands another left and right to the head. Tony was then more cautious, and missed Louis with a right to the jaw. He watched the champion carefully. They clinched, and Galento landed with a right and then with a light hook to Louis's jaw. Louis came back with a right hook and attacked with both fists at close quarters. Galento's round.

ROUND 2

Both began sparring Galento weaved in and landed a left hook to the jaw. Louis landed a right hook and a left jab to Tony's jaw. Louis landed a left to the jaw, rocking the challenger, and then attacked Galento's body with both hands. Galento's lip was cut. He attacked Louis, and laughed when receiving a right hook. Both missed; then Louis landed two hard rights to the jaw, and then another. Galento replied with a straight left, but he was in trouble and bleeding. Even so, he managed to land a left to the body. Louis put over a terrific right to the jaw, and Galento went down. He was up again on the count of one, and began boring in. Louis's round.

ROUND 3

Galento came out of his corner crouching, and Louis jabbed him up-right. Galento landed with a left hook, but he was still bleeding badly at the nose from Louis's right hooks. Louis jabbed him again, and Galento rushed into a clinch. From a right hook Louis went down, but was up again before a count could be started. Louis landed a right hook to the jaw, but Galento replied with a left hook to the chin, and another which rocked the negro. Galento's round.

ROUND 4

Pandemonium followed in the fourth round. Blood was pouring from Louis. Galento forced Louis and rocked him with a left to the body. Louis was overhand with a right to the jaw, but landed a hard left, followed by another. Tony was bleeding at the nose, and as soon as he straightened up he was good target for Louis, who landed a terrific right hook and then three more. Galento was very game, but the referee came between them and halted the fight.

Louis was awarded the verdict on a technical knock-out.

During the third round Joe Jacobs, Galento's manager, protested vehemently against the negro hitting low. In Louis's corner they were apparently giving signs to Louis.

Galento put up an amazingly game fight, and shook the champion with his terrific lefts and rights.—Press Association.

HARVEY BEATS MCAVOY

White City, To-day.—A crowd of 100,000 saw Lee Harvey win the Lonsdale Belt and the British Heavy-Weight Championship by beating McAvoy.

Coming back on the verge of a knock-out defeat in the 14th round, Harvey crowned a sensational victory over 20 years by becoming the holder of five titles simultaneously.

AN INTERESTING photograph in view of recent events—Miss Stammers (left) and Miss Marble after the victory of the latter in the final of the Beckenham Tournament.

Harvey, as usual, showed good generalship and revealed himself as a master tactician. He allowed the rugged McAvoy to force the pace for two-thirds of the fight and then applied pressure when McAvoy was tiring after the 10th.

Harvey landed rights and lefts to the body and head almost as he pleased and had McAvoy distressed.

McAvoy punched desperately in the 14th and forced Harvey to hang on grimly. The fight finished with both standing toe-to-toe hitting recklessly.

Harvey won seven rounds, McAvoy two and six were even.

McAvoy continued his forcing tactics in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds, punching from all angles and rocking Harvey in the seventh with left-hooks followed by rights.

The fight developed in the closing stages, Harvey, with well-timed punches, monopolising the exchanges.

There were scenes of the wildest enthusiasm as Harvey donned the Lonsdale Belt and kissed his wife.

PHILLIPS K.O'S DOYLE

Die Phillips knocked-out Jack Doyle in two minutes, and 24 seconds of the first of a 10-round fight after Phillips was twice down for corners of Doyle.

Phillips landed a left to the body and a right to the chin which finished the fight, which was Doyle's first since he fought Phillips last September and was catapulted through the ropes.

Michael T. Gottlieb made the most of the amazing freak hand that was dealt to him. Mr. Gottlieb opened with one club since he does not believe in pre-empting on hands that offer strong Slam possibilities. His subsequent jump to the Small Slam and the redouble were in his usual daring fashion, and West opened the heart King.

While this lead would seem safe enough, it gave Mr. Gottlieb the opportunity to execute a brilliant play. He ruffed the opening lead, then ran off all his remaining trumps. Now in order to keep his diamond protection, West had to blank both his heart Ace and spade

King. At this point Mr. Gottlieb cashed the spade Ace and discarded the last small diamond from dummy, retaining the Ace-King of diamonds and Queen-Jack of hearts. He now led his only diamond to dummy, then played the Queen of hearts. West won this trick with the heart Ace, but that was all he made, since the King of diamonds and Jack of hearts took the last two tricks.

BRITAIN IS SOLIDLY BEHIND THE PREMIER'S DANZIG STATEMENT

London, To-day.

The entire press this morning unanimously supports the statement on Danzig made by Mr. Neville Chamberlain in the House of Commons yesterday.

Editorials of leading newspapers stress the possibility of peaceful settlement of the conflict mentioned by Mr. Chamberlain.

The "News Chronicle" and "Daily Herald" declare that settlement of the dispute by way of negotiations would meet the wishes of the whole country.

The declaration has been received with great satisfaction in political and Parliamentary circles.

It is pointed out that it contains everything essential that had been expected for days past.

Special significance is attached by circles in close touch with the Government to the passage in which Mr. Chamberlain said that a change in the conditions at Danzig could not be effected by a local settlement.

FIRST TIME

It is emphasised that this is the first time that the British Government in Parliament has declared Danzig to be an international problem.

That the declaration was nevertheless restrained in tone is explained in well-informed circles by the fact that the Government is at pains to avoid slamming of the door to possible later negotiations.

At all events no doubt remains in London that such negotiations would only be possible if after a lapse of a lengthy period of time the prevailing tension should have relaxed.

As essential condition for this is considered to be the non-occurrence of any serious incidents or steps that might contribute to an intensification of the situation.

MEETS POLISH WISHES

Polish circles in London also show themselves extraordinarily satisfied with the Premier's declaration.

claration and point out that the pronouncement, which was drawn up in collaboration with the Polish Government, meets Polish wishes entirely, and consider that this previous diplomatic co-operation between the two Governments proves that the British Government has to a very far-reaching extent made the Polish standpoint its own. — Trans-Ocean.
